12 Divisions Set to March May 30th

Twelve divisions, including 13 bands and drum corps, will march in Kingston's Memorial Day parade May 30 at 2 p. m. It was announced today by John Ray Mayone, parade chairman.

Featured in the parade will be a group of sailors from the U.S.S. Joyce, led by Lt. Cmdr. Norman C. Bohan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bohan of Ulster Park.

Howard C. Shurter has been named honorary grand marshal and Fire Chief James M. Brett, marshal.

THEME of this year's Memorial Day observance, Mr. Mayone said, is "Show Your Colors," and the chairman has urged everyone to display the American flag in front of their home or business place.

THE REVIEWING stand will be located at the stadium adjacent to the Dietz monument. A short memorial service will be held immediately following the parade and Mayor Stang will be the principal speaker.

At 1:45 p. m. prior to parade time, buglers stationed at one-block intervals from Broadway and McEntee street to North Front street will sound taps. The buglers are members of the Port Ewen Colonial Cavaliers Drum Corps.

IN A LETTER to more than 125 organizations in the Kingston area, Mr. Mayone has urged participation in the parade by all veteran, service, religious and fraternal organizations.

Mr. Mayone's letter said in part: "As chairman of these parades for the past five years, I have annually campaigned for more organizational participation. It is my personal opinion that every organization, be it veteran, service, religious or fraternal, should consider this parade as

One Local Sector Has 25 Degrees Some State Areas Have Light Snow

A spot check of area orchards today indicated that a certain degree of damage to trees may have resulted from Wednesday night's sub-freezing temperatures.

Full extent of damage was still undetermined this afternoon.

FRANK PALMER, Ulster county agricultural agent, was inspecting county orchards and could not be reached.

Raymond Elmendorf of Hurley said the temperatures were "very close to damage" but that it was still "hard to tell" if his trees had suffered. He said there may have been some damage in low spots where frost and cold tends to collect.

Jerome Hurd, of M. G. Hurd and Sons, Clintondale, told The Freeman that temperatures, which fell as low as 25 degrees, had definitely caused damage to the Hurd orchards, consisting of apple and peach trees.

AN ASSOCIATED PRESS report from Albany said:

A mid-May frost and freezing temperatures today slashed into New York's orchards and further hampered vegetable planting. Snow whitened some areas. At Geneva, the state experiment station reported 100 per cent damage to apple buds checked within five miles. Peach, apricot and cherry trees suffered. In neighboring Yates county, Farm Agent Gilbert Smith said there had been considerable damage to peaches and grapes. Temperatures in the area ranged from 24 to 27.

MANY FARMERS have delayed planting vegetables, especially tender crops, so they did not suffer except for the further delay. Some who had planted tomatoes had cause to worry. In the Albany area, a major vegetable grower said the frost "didn't help but wasn't killing." It nipped flower gardens, however.

At Rochester, smudge pots

'ID' Card System Being Instituted for Minors

Hotels, restaurants and tavern keepers where alcoholic beverages are sold are being notified by District Attorney Howard C. St. John this week of the institution of an "ID" card system which will help in obtaining competent proof of age when selling alcoholic beverages to patrons.

For some time the sale of intoxicating liquors to minors has been of concern to the district attorney's office and an investigation has been under way for some time to determine how best to stop sale to minors. Many tavern owners, desiring to observe the law which prohibits sale to minors under 18 years of age, have found it difficult to establish identity and age of customers.

A system of identification cards which contains a picture of the person, his age and signature, was devised some time ago and has been successfully used in many counties of the state including Rensselaer, Broome, Fulton counties and the city of Schenectady. This system was advocated for Ulster county by the Ulster County Hotel and Restaurant Liquor Dealers' Association to protect its members from sale to minors. The request was approved by the district attorney's office and the sheriff's department.

For several months the system has been under advisement and has now reached a point where it will be put into effect.

In dining rooms, taverns and other places where alcoholic beverages are sold for on property consumption, members of the County Association will display large signs calling attention to the fact that the management will require positive proof of majority age before serving any youth whose age is questioned by an employee.

The identification cards properly signed with photograph, notarized and stamped by an authorized issuing office will be considered acceptable proof. These cards will be issued free at the Kingston police station in the city hall from 4 to 8 p. m. on Wednesdays, at the Ulster County Sheriff's office on Wednesdays and Fridays from 3 to 5 p. m. and at the Saugerties police station on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays from 2 to 4 p. m. Since the identification card must contain a photograph of the person, which will be stamped with the official seal

State May Be Partner In Project Deal for Quick Action Expected

Niagara Falls, N. Y., May 17 (P)—The hint of a compromise in the hotly debated Niagara power issue—a compromise that might lead to quick action in Congress and a start on the power redevelopment project—came today from Rep. William L. Miller.

Miller, co-sponsor of the private redevelopment bill that passed the House in 1953 but died in the Senate, predicted a solution through a "partnership" between New York state and private power interests.

MILLER, a Republican from nearby Lockport, discounted the significance of yesterday's passage by the Senate of Sen. Lehman's bill giving the State Power Authority the right to construct and administer the 440-million-dollar project. He said the Lehman bill "will never pass" the House.

Miller said debate in the Senate this week indicated to him that "Sen. Ives and I will soon agree on a new arrangement which will preserve the principles of private enterprise and at the same time conform with political platform and government practices in New York state."

IVES, a militant opponent of the Lehman bill, hinted at a new development during the debate when he asked for time to work out a compromise.

Miller said today in an interview (with the Niagara Falls Gazette) that the heart of the new plan was to have the state construct new generating facilities, then lease the whole thing to a private utility for operation.

PREVIOUS compromise suggestions called for the state to build and operate the facilities and sell only the power to private utilities.

The Lehman bill differs from the idea in that it provides for preferential sale of power to municipally-owned utilities, rural electric cooperatives and such public-owned groups. It was believed the new proposal Miller outlined already had the approval of the faction led by Ives—the faction that is adamant in its opposition to the "preference" provision in the Lehman bill. Whether it was acceptable to backers of the Lehman measure remained to be seen.

Still Split on Issue

(By The Associated Press) The second anniversary of the Supreme Court's historic decision outlawing racial segregation in public schools arrived today (Thurs.) with millions of Americans still split wide apart on the issue. Rallies, speeches and dinners celebrating the event were scheduled in numerous places across the country.

BPW Votes to Lease Play Area From Insurance Co.

The Board of Public Works yesterday voted to lease at $1 per year from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. a 10th ward playground area located off Greenkill and South Clinton avenues adjacent to the insurance firm's Hall of Records building.

The playground, which fills a need for recreational facilities in that area, will be under the supervision of the Recreation Department, it was reported.

Almost Half County Children Up to 15 Given Salk Vaccine

Almost half of Ulster county's children up to 15 years of age have received at least one injection of Salk polio vaccine, Dr. Dudley W. Hargrave, Ulster county health commissioner, said today.

A total of 10,903 children in the eligible group from six months through 14 years of age have had such an injection, he said.

This represents 45.9 per cent of the total of 23,750 eligible children in the county. Of the 65 cities and counties in upstate New York who are receiving vaccine from federal government supplies, Ulster county ranks 24th in the number having already received vaccine, he explained.

"This fine record, in spite of a short supply of vaccine, indicated that Ulster county parents, as well as physicians, are aware of the importance of immunizing as soon as possible."

The commissioner pointed out that expectant mothers and the 15 through 19 age group are now eligible for vaccine through request of the family physician to the Ulster County Health Department.

Kidnaping Charge Put On Williams, No Bail

Vincent Astor Williams, 44, of Glenford, Ulster county, is being held without bail in the Delaware county jail at Delhi to await action of the grand jury on a charge of kidnaping. He allegedly held up, robbed and then forced three Grand Gorge women at gun point to enter the car of one of the women. Two jumped from the car but a third was held for three and a half hours and during that time was allegedly assaulted by Williams.

Before Justice of the Peace Joseph Palumbo at Sidney, Williams waived examination Wednesday afternoon on the kidnaping charge and was committed to jail. He was arraigned only on one charge.

State Police Inspector Robert Denman of Troop C at Sidney said later the grand jury could indict Williams on several charges, including other counts of kidnaping and robbery. He also may face other charges in Schoharie and Greene counties in connection with Tuesday's spree in which he entered the home of Mrs. Gertrude Davis near Grand Gorge, help her up at gun point and robbed her of jewelry and a small sum of money. Two friends who came in during the robbery were forced to enter the car of one of the women and Mrs. Jane Chase, 38, was forced to drive the car away. She was later, according to a statement made by Williams, assaulted. Williams later was arrested while driving the Chase car.

The 22 calibre revolver was allegedly stolen earlier Tuesday near Lexington, Greene county. According to authorities, Williams, who lived at Glenford with his wife and three children, has a criminal record dating back to 1929 with convictions in nine states. Among charges listed are manslaughter, burglary, issuing bad checks, grand larceny and petit larceny. In 1953 he was convicted of petit larceny in New York and placed on parole. It is believed parole on this charge had expired only a few days ago.

Notice of the robbery and kidnaping at Grand Gorge Tuesday touched off one of the most intensive manhunts ever staged in the Catskill Mountain area. State police and other law enforcement officers threw up road blocks throughout the area following the alarm sounded by the small sum of money. Two friends

Passenger Train Service Cut to Be Opposed by CC

The Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce will protest a New York Central Railroad bid to eliminate passenger service on its West Shore Division between Albany and Weehawken, N. J., at a Public Service Commission hearing scheduled at the Court House on Wednesday, June 20 at 10 a. m. Albert Kurdt, manager of the chamber, said today.

Hearings are also set in New York city on June 18 and 19. Commissioner Richard H. Balch will preside.

Regional expansion and need for additional transportation "instead of less" were given as the reasons by Mr. Kurdt for the chamber's protest on the application.

"In the light of the continued growth of the area and its need for additional transportation instead of less transportation the chamber will be represented at the hearing to protest the railroad's application," Mr. Kurdt said.

According to The Associated Press, the commission said it expected the railroad to present its case "in chief" at the New York session.

affected "substantial interests of the people."

The commission noted that the New York Central operated 49 trains in the division, which serves 37 New York stations.

The New Jersey Board of Public Utility Commissioners refused to terminate the West Shore service in that state but allowed a reduction in the number of trains operating daily.

The railroad also applied to the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to discontinue ferry service from

Steinkuller Named Chairman Of Next Red Feather Drive

Paul F. Steinkuller of 84 Mountain View avenue was named general chairman of the Kingston Area Community Chest's next Red Feather campaign at a meeting of the board of directors Wednesday night.

Mr. Steinkuller, personnel manager at the IBM Kingston plant, military products division, was elected to head the Chest's third annual fund appeal, which will be held in October of this year to raise 1957 operating funds for its member agencies.

The Red Feather drive, conducted by the Community Chest, is a combined fund raising effort replacing former individual drives held by the various mem-

Arms for Israel Influences Egypt

Cairo, Egypt, May 17 (P)—Cairo newspapers hinted today the arming of Israel by western nations was a factor leading to Egypt's recognition of Red China.

Egypt acted yesterday. It is the first Arab nation to establish diplomatic ties with the Communist Peiping government.

The Egyptian government newspaper Al Gumhuriya called Red China "a friendly people which does not take part in a conspiracy against the Arabs, nor does it export arms to Israel on the plea of maintaining the balance of power in this part of the world."

Convict Killed, Several Injured In Florida Riot

Tallahassee, Fla., May 17 (P)—One convict was killed and several wounded today in a short lived riot at state prison at Raiford, Gov. Leroy Collins reported to an emergency meeting of the cabinet.

COLLINS SAID Warden DeWitt Sinclair had advised him the riot was under control and outside help would not be needed. However the governor said he had ordered Adj. Mark Lange of the National Guard to investigate to determine if troops were required to maintain order.

Collins said he had sent his administrative assistant, Joe Grotegut, to Raiford as an observer and had instructed the Florida Highway Patrol to give the prison all needed help.

Raiford is about 50 miles west of Jacksonville. Collins said that Sinclair had telephoned him to report that a group of convicts awaiting work assignments in a prison compound had suddenly become rebellious and broken into a recreation building.

Gasoline in Body Is Pathologist Testimony

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 17 (P)—A pathologist testified today an autopsy showed gasoline in the body of Mrs. Lloyd H. Beresford, 35, who burned to death in her Staatsburg home.

The testimony of Dr. Joseph D. Gioia was given at the Dutchess County Court murder trial of Wells Van Steenberg, 21, who is accused of burning the woman to death when she surprised him in a robbery.

The prosecution says the defendant, a friend of the Beresfords, was taking $3,500 from the husband's dresser when the wife appeared and fainted. Van Steenberg then sprayed her with gasoline and set her afire, the prosecution contends. The woman's husband, a dog breeder and judge, was not at home at the time.

Dr. Gioia said he found gasoline in the woman's stomach and windpipe and that the entire body was charred by fourth degree burns, the worst a person can suffer.

Yesterday four witnesses testified they smelled gasoline fumes in the Beresford home. Sgt. Joseph N. Cesaro, a chemist at the state police laboratory at Albany, produced at the trial two jars containing items of clothing he took from the bedrooms of the dead woman and her husband. The witness said the clothing smelled of gasoline. Cesaro passed the jars around for sniffing by the Dutchess county jurors.

Another witness, Donald W. Hobson, assistant fire chief of the Hillside Fire Company, said he was first at the scene of the fire and found Mrs. Beresford's bed and bedclothes afire, her legs drawn up and her hands clenched. Hobson said he wore a mask in the woman's bedroom and smelled nothing there. But he said he smelled gasoline in her husband's adjoining bedroom.

Deputy Fire Chief William Pottenburgh of Hillside testified he smelled gasoline in both bedrooms.

Poughkeepsie Fire Chief Howard J. Palmateer said he smelled gasoline fumes in the husband's bedroom.

OVER 175 HORSEPOWER
IN RESERVE!

...when you're cruising at everyday speeds!

THE ROCKET'S EXTRA MARGIN OF POWER
MEANS AN EXTRA MARGIN OF SAFETY!

HIGH HORSEPOWER... high torque... high compression. It takes all three to describe Oldsmobile's Rocket! But there's still another important side to the picture.

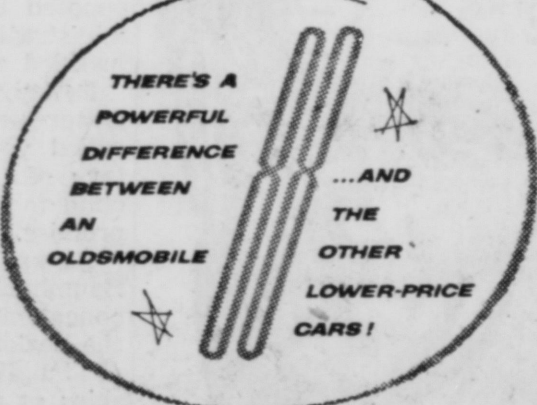

It's reserve power — in abundance! In fact, at normal cruising speeds the Rocket still has more than 175 horsepower left... beyond what it takes to propel the car! It's this reserve that whips you through a passing situation so quickly, so effortlessly.

That means economy, too! The Rocket just eases along, when lesser engines are straining. You can see the result in Oldsmobile's double victory in the Mobilgas Economy Run!

The modern "big bore — short stroke" design cuts friction and power loss. The Rocket's design made high compression practical... and today's Rocket hits a high 9.25 to 1 compression!

Come take the wheel of a Rocket Oldsmobile. You will feel a distinct difference in performance, in riding and handling qualities... just as you see a glamorous difference in Oldsmobile's beauty. We'll be looking for you soon!

THE UNCOMMON MAN

In a day and age when so much attention is being given to the common man, it comes as a pleasant change of pace to hear a plea for the "uncommon man."

That, in a nutshell, is the thought-provoking fast ball hurled at Bureau of Advertising members of the American Newspaper Publishers Association in New York recently.

The delivery was served up by Crawford H. Greenewalt, president of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. He warned that "the uncommon" man threatens to become submerged by group action and conformity.

This person he labels "uncommon" is, according to Greenewalt, the gifted individual "whose dreams waken him in the night while others lie contentedly asleep."

"We need those dreams, for today's dreams represent tomorrow's realities," he says. "Yet in the very nature of our mass effort, there lies the grave danger—not that the individual will circumvent the public will, but that he will himself be conformed and shaped to the general pattern, with the loss of his unique original contributions."

Greenewalt admits that the replacement of the individual by the group has been natural and inevitable with the growth of our economy.

"Science and production and administration have become necessarily dependent on team effort," he says. "Our trade and labor unions almost by definition are dedicated to the sublimation of the individual to the general level. Our taxing methods have the present effect of leveling the rewards of individual performance, and, for the future, the often frightening prospect of curbing the will toward individual accomplishment."

However, he points out, "we can create no synthetic genius, no composite leader. Men are not interchangeable parts like so many minor gears or carburetors; genius, as John Adams said, is bestowed 'imperiously' by nature upon the individual."

Furthermore, he punctures the doctrine that no man is indispensable. It's his opinion that "this country and the world have been enriched and invigorated most conspicuously by indispensable men, for the right man with the right idea at the right vortex of history has always been the indispensable man."

How dependent society should become upon one man or several men is questionable, but Greenewalt's concern for the creative genius who wakes in the night is valid at this juncture of history. For the country needs these men in all the professions—from the scientist to the diplomat to the politician.

FALSE APPEARANCES

A television news commentator did a rather strange but interesting and useful thing the other night. He sat before the cameras for 15 minutes without once mentioning current happenings. His entire broadcast time was devoted to a sort of illustrated lecture on how a man's reputation can be built up or torn down by the adroit use of adjectives and pictures.

Using various public figures—Secretary of State Dulles, for example, and Adlai Stevenson—as guinea pigs, the commentator showed how favorable or unfavorable impressions can be created. Photographed smiling and serene, a man may have great public appeal. Photographed shouting something in a speech, or looking up owlishly as he climbs out of a car, the same man may seem coarse or stupid, or perhaps evil.

Much the same thing, the commentator noted, can be done with adjectives. Refer to "pudgy-faced, balding Joe Doakes," and you tend to set the reader against him. Refer to the same man as "that cheerful solid citizen, Joe Doakes," and the reader is inclined to like him.

It was a good lesson, especially pertinent in an election year. What the commentator really said was an old truism: Men cannot

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE OLD ORDER PASSETH

Senator Walter George is not standing for reelection because the prospects for him are that in a contest with Herman Talmadge, he would be defeated. And so the old order passeth.

It does not mean that the new men are better or worse, more suitable or less; each generation goes its course and is followed by its descendants who usually speak a different accent and emphasize a point of view which reflects the young rather than the experienced and mature. The oldsters are often miserable over the stupidities of the youngsters, forgetting their own at the same age.

We are moving into the era of the men of the 30's, the men whose careers started in depression, fear, uncertainty, disappointment. Although many of them have succeeded in their various careers, they have not overcome the ugliness of those early, character-forming years. Most of them grew up in an environment in which their parents with unpalatable suddenness discovered that money did not grow on trees and that work in this country could be disappointing. None of them knew the pre-World War I era of peace and competition, when ambitions were terrific and youth was romantic even in its pessimisms.

Some of those who are now emerging were children during the shameless Prohibition Era and witnessed the corruption of a bacchanalia with its resultant disrespect for the law and particularly for the moral law and the sanctity of marriage and the home. This period in our history left ugly scars upon the generations which passed through it and left a statistic in its wake of broken homes and smashed hopes which by the middle of the 1950's has become the principal social problem misnamed juvenile delinquency but really the rebellion of young children against home, church and school.

Politically, the newer generation seems to the older ones to have no standards, to seek shortcuts to personal success at the expense of society. Loyalty seems to be a forgotten quality. Some of the younger politicians appear like hot-rods rushing hither and yon without direction and even without any purpose. In an era when to earn money is only to increase one's taxes, politicians may no be as money corrupt as those who became millionaires in the Mark Hanna period, but they do appear to sell their souls and consciences for position, making deals, not with those who are building the country, but with those who are destroying it.

So one is often shocked by the relationship of a fairly conservative Senator or Judge or Administrative official hobnobbing with Communists or racketeers in the hope of building a position for himself.

It has always been true that for a man to get on, he needed friends. And my memory goes back to the very beginning of this century in political operations and I recall the Tammany leader, Charlie Murphy, that when he got on, he had a man of the social set to teach him good manners. But it appears that currently it is regarded as more democratic to avoid manners about which there seems something prissy. Nevertheless, men are not physically as tough, as hard, as sure of themselves as they were in the days when newspapers were taken to the post office in a wagon drawn by horses and the policeman walked the beat and knew every man, woman and child by first name.

But it is stupid to suffer nostalgia for the good old days and to decry the present and the next generations. The good old days always are dead days; the best that can be remembered about them is about dead men and women. And although it is lots of fun to hear an old vaudevilian sing "School Days," and "Shine on Harvest Moon," the children prefer something with a down beat that groans and moans and sounds as though they were suffering as they sing. Each to his kind until something better comes along, as it always does from somewhere or other.

So, Senator Walter George goes his way to an honorable position in NATO and his place will be taken by Herman Talmadge, whose father I met when he was Governor of Georgia. The Senate will not be the same without George, as it is not the same without Henry Clay and Daniel Webster and Robert A. Taft.

DEATH RATE TRENDS IN CANCER

A report on the mortality rate trends in Canada, for the various sites where cancer attacks, is given in Canadian Service Medical Journal by Drs. A. Phillips and Margaret Owchar. It represents a careful and detailed study on their own part and the full collaboration of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The information will be useful in suggesting new lines of investigation. As statisticians, the authors have presented the data without comment as to the possible reasons for trends in mortality rates for various sites of the disease.

The decrease in deaths reported as due to cancer of the stomach has been reported also in the United States. The drop in rates for cancer of the uterus and mouth and throat is encouraging. The rise in death rate from leukemia (a form of cancer of the blood) for both sexes is equally startling and has been noted in Great Britain and the United States, and in all these countries attempts to find the factor or factors responsible have begun. The period under review covers the years 1941 to 1953 inclusive.

1. Mouth and throat cancer shows a significant decrease in males in Canada as a whole but no significant change found in females.
2. Stomach—deaths from cancer of the stomach shows a significant decrease in Canada as a whole and in both sexes.
3. Intestines—no important change in the death rate although it is higher in females than in males.
4. Rectum—no significant change in the death rate for either sex in Canada.
5. Respiratory system—a significant increase in cancer of the lungs in males but not in females has been found.

6. Urinary organs—a significant increase in the male death rate in Canada but no important change in the females.
7. Breast (female)—no significant change.
8. Uterus (female)—an important decrease in number of deaths.
9. Cervix (female)—shows an increase in death rate.
10. Genital organs (male)—a significant increase in death rate for Canada as a whole.

11. Leukemia—an important increase in death rate in both males and females.
Considering cancer of all sites, there has been a significant increase in the male death rate in Canada and a significant decrease in the female mortality. Some of these facts are encouraging and other discouraging but at least it shows what the trends are and also shows our research workers in what particular parts of the body the danger from cancer is most severe.

be judged at face value. It is unwise to make up your mind about a man, candidate or otherwise, on the basis of one picture or a couple of slyly chosen adjectives. Adjectives can be false; pictures can be misleading. A man's true worth emerges from his words and deeds—and most particularly from how well what he does matches what he says.

The Only Thing We've Saved So Far

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington, (NEA)—It will be June, 1957, or later before the new International Atomic Agency is open for business.

Its "Atoms for Peace" plan was first proposed by President Eisenhower in December, 1953. Considering the snail's pace at which most diplomatic negotiations move, this is fast work.

But there are still many head-aches ahead before IAEA becomes operative. Representatives of 86 countries will meet in September to consider the draft "Statute," as the new world organization's constitution will be called. It has just been approved by a 12-nation drafting committee after six months of preparation and two months of negotiation.

In this period there were eight separate conferences between U. S. and Russian officials, headed by Ambassadors James J. Wadsworth and Georgi N. Zarubhin. The Russians cooperated on this one, and didn't throw monkey wrenches.

ZARUBHIN HAD PLENTY of authority to make compromises without referring everything back to Moscow. It showed the Russians can cooperate when they want to.

What the Russian motives are in going for this project, nobody knows. But it is pointed out that as one of the countries contributing atomic materials to IAEA, Soviet Russia won't be subject to controls like the receiving countries.

The 86-nation delegations meeting in September are expected to take two months to debate the draft statute and adopt whatever amendments they think necessary.

The Russians are known to have two amendments in mind which may cause delay. One is on protection of its rights of sovereignty. U. S. experts think this is not a question of substance, but a problem of finding acceptable language.

The other Russian objection is expected on membership. They will propose Communist China. On this one the U. S. is now committed to object.

AFTER THE SEPTEMBER conference approves the statute it will go to the 86 member countries for a 90-day period. It will become effective when ratified by 18 countries, including three of the five supplying countries—U. S., U. K., Canada, France and U.S.S.R.

A preparatory commission will then take over organization of a first general conference of all ratifying countries. The preparatory commission will also name the first 13 members of a board of governors. Later the general conference will name 10 more. Each country will have one vote.

Decisions will be made by simple majority vote, except for budget and financial matters, which will require two-thirds majority. But there will be no veto power. Disputes will be settled by the International Court of Justice.

Board of governors will name a director general for a four-year term as chief administrative officer of the agency.

It is hoped to get all these preliminaries out of the road by mid-summer of next year. Then a staff of scientists and inspectors can be hired, a budget prepared and approved by the first general conference and the agency put to work.

NO DECISION HAS YET been made by the United States or any other country, however, on where the agency will have its headquarters, how its expenses will be borne, where and how its atomic materials will be acquired, stockpiled, distributed and paid for.

As experts now view the embryonic IAEA, its statute is flexible enough to make it either a powerful operating trust or merely an advisory brokerage agency.

At its maximum potential, it might control the world's supply of atomic materials. Possibilities were not discussed while the IAEA statute was being drafted. Mention of the word "disarmament" in these negotiations was taboo. But it could even become merged with a world disarmament commission, channeling all atomic materials into peaceful uses instead of bombs.

Have New Proposal On Lake Cargo Ships

Washington, May 17 (AP)—Backers of bills to subsidize Great Lakes cargo ship construction came up with a new proposal today to counteract an objection that the program would be too expensive.

As outlined by Rep. Baumhart (R.-Ohio), the legislation would be revised to limit to 21 the number of ships that would be built under subsidy for the next three years.

"That would be one new ship for each of the seven Great Lakes yards to build for three years," Baumhart explained. "Then at the end of the three years the program could be reviewed."

Sen. Williams (R.-Del.) complained on the Senate floor the other day that the bill, as written, would let Great Lakes vessel owners turn in as many as 300 obsolete ships to the government, receiving subsidies averaging between three and 3½ million dollars per ship.

The legislation also has been opposed by the Eisenhower administration as supplying an unjustified subsidy.

Baumhart and a group of other Congressmen backing the bill called yesterday on undersecretary of Commerce Louis Rothschild to try to work out a compromise.

As spokesmen for the group, Baumhart said Rothschild was noncommittal but "acknowledged the seriousness of the problem" of building new Great Lakes ships at present costs.

Old Tavern Burns

Ravena, N. Y., May 17 (AP)—The Golden Inn, a 100-year-old tavern at the nearby country village of Aquetuck, was destroyed by fire early today. There were no reports of injuries. The cause was not known and there was no immediate estimate of damage. In its early days, the two-story, red frame building had been a stopping place for farmers carrying their crops to market. In recent years it had been used only as a bar.

Democratic 'Dark Horse' Is Called Unlikely This Year

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, May 17—Out of these four names will come the nominee on the Democratic party's ticket this year for the Presidency—Messrs. Stevenson, Harriman, Kefauver and Truman.

That's the way the situation looks today—less than three months before the national convention meets at Chicago.

The chances of a "dark horse" are remote. For it is apparent that what is developing in the contest for the Democratic Presidential nomination is not a "dark-horse" setup. It is out of a deadlock between factions with deep-seated cleavages that a "dark horse" customarily emerges. The friendship, however, between the principal candidates this time and the close association among the leaders is such that any candidate might yield to the other without a trace of bitterness.

THE STRONGEST campaigner in the group is Harry Truman. If it is considered by the Democratic leaders generally that President Eisenhower is really invincible this time, there would be much more of an inclination to let the former President make the race. The politicians—with the exception of those in the South—could agree on Truman faster than on anybody else.

Most of the talk about Truman has arisen from the belief that a stalemate would develop. But the forces of Harriman and Stevenson could readily get together, and so could the forces of Harriman and Kefauver.

At the moment Stevenson is in the lead. He has more strength within the party organizations than has Harriman or Kefauver. But the Democratic nomination in 1956 is not as valuable as it will be in 1960. Stevenson might consider he would have a better chance four years hence than now. It could influence him at the last moment to let a Harriman-Kefauver ticket go to the country and take its licks.

The main reason why the Democratic nomination seemed worth contending for this time was the prospect a few months ago that Ike wouldn't run on account of his illness. But, as the President now appears to be getting better and better in health, the Democratic nomination may become more valuable to Harriman than to Stevenson. The New York governor has plenty of his own funds to contribute to the race. Also, he would not go out of office at Albany if defeated for the Presidency.

At present writing, the South holds the balance of power. There will, of course, be a fight at the Chicago convention on the civil rights issue. Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas could become the vice presidential nominee either with Harriman or Stevenson. The Texas senator has behind him the powerful support of Rayburn, Speaker of the House, who, if he were not for his seventy-four years, would be the logical second man for the ticket this year.

AS IT IS, Speaker Rayburn can have a good deal to say about the second place on the ticket. If selected for the Vice-Presidential nomination, Mr. Johnson would not have to resign from the Senate or from his position as Majority Leader during the campaign. He would merely move from the Senate floor to the rostrum in the event the Democratic party were successful at the November election. Certainly his heart ailment would be less of a handicap in the Vice-President's chair than if he were to remain as party leader in the Senate.

So it may be a Harriman-Johnson ticket or a Stevenson-Johnson ticket if Sen. Kefauver doesn't want second place or if his convention forces aren't strong enough to get it for him. Obviously a coalition of Stevenson and Harriman forces could control the majority of the Chicago convention and name the ticket.

So whichever way the situation is viewed, the names for the top place are Stevenson, Harriman and Kefauver, with Truman as a compromise choice of all three, especially if there is a feeling on the part of the organization leaders in the popular states that only the former President can make the kind of campaign needed to win. A Truman-Johnson ticket cannot be crossed off as impossible, for there is an awareness in the Northern cities that something must be done to placate the Southern wing of the party—and Sam Rayburn and Harry Truman are close friends and political allies. AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, May 16—The best way to educate the people in the inequities of unionism as a sub-government or super-government is to drop in occasional spot-cases as follows:

At the convention of the Ladies' Garment Workers Union in Atlantic City on May 10, David Dubinsky, the perpetual president-dictator, attacked executives of other unions for personal business dealings with business firms doing business with their unions. This is common practice. It is legal. It is corrupt, as Dubinsky says.

Yet, Dubinsky's own union publication boasted that during the war Dubinsky spent unspecified amounts of money, possibly millions, the earnings of his subjects, to finance espionage or "underground" operations in enemy and occupied territory in Europe. Nobody knows who got that money, Dubinsky says that if he told he would put lives in peril. This is not a proper function of an American "bargaining agent" between worker and employer. If the Steuben Society had done the same thing, Dubinsky and his propaganda staff would have yelled "treason" and, probably, the offenders would have been condemned to prison and everlasting disgrace among us.

Dubinsky did not consult his subjects on any of these "projects." He just told them what he had done. They have no power to rescind his action. His treasury, at last published, unverifiably reported, had $160 million.

Dubinsky's union does have business relations with employers. The union, in effect, collects import duties on interstate commerce in garments manufactured by non-union labor. The Constitution forbids the states to collect import duties on commerce from one state to another. Dubinsky's union does collect such duties under the pretext of a license, or penalty. A manufacturer in a non-union state can run a non-union shop, but his wares are taxed by the union before they reach the racks and counters of the state of New York. This union is even collecting import duties on goods made in Japan. Obviously, the only authority with a right to collect import taxes on manufactured goods is the Treasury of the United States. But Dubinsky's privilege is equal to a right.

Many unions for many years have collected a sales tax on manufactured or "processed" merchandise such as wearing apparel and poultry. They sell official seals of union labels, these must be affixed to each article. The manufacturer or "processor" buys the seals from the union, which does not have to account for the money to its own members, the public or the business firms which pay it. The cost is passed along to the ultimate consumer. It is a sales tax.

Dubinsky's union does this. Then he uses the money for the operations of his own mysterious bureaucracy. This also includes a Soviet counterfeiter of American currency who served a long term in an American federal prison for that crime. It also pays toward the operation of a private, balance-of-power political party in the city and state of New York, the so-called Liberal party. At times, Dubinsky's subjects have been ordered to appear at political rallies, designated membership "meetings," and submit to harangues by Dubinsky's own candidates. Otherwise they would be fined $1. Dubinsky has acknowledged warnings to that effect distributed under the union seal. I have his admission in writing of such threats.

When the war ended in Europe, Dubinsky hurried to France with $30,000 in American currency in his hand-baggage to pay out agents of his unspecified political program. This money belonged to the workers from whom it had been exacted as the price of permission to work for a living in the United States. Dubinsky would laugh at a proposal that the district attorney of New York county or of the Federal Southern District of New York should pounce on his books, and yank him into a grand jury room. He is above the law.

So, Dubinsky comes not into court with clean hands. The same propaganda which belatedly condemns the executives of the Teamsters' Union for vicious financial practices has persistently exalted Dubinsky and his two anti-Stalin Communist international political agents, Jay Lovestone and Irving Brown, both mysterious figures absolutely unknown to the working people of the United States.

So They Say..

Our way of life today has become so complicated that Americans often live in one city, make a living in another, go to church in a third, send their children to school in a fourth, find recreation in a fifth, and become true citizens of none.

O. W. Campbell, city manager San Diego, Calif.

If they (Democrats) try to be all things to all men, if they take the easy way of compromise and convenience, they will not win in 1956 and they have no moral right to win.

Reds Shell Kaoteng

Taipei, Formosa, May 17 (AP)—Communist guns on the Chinese mainland fired 24 shells this evening at Kaoteng, a tiny island in the Matsus, the Defense Ministry reported. It did not mention if the Nationalists retaliated.

Allies Protest Parade

Berlin, Germany, May 17 (AP)—The western allies protested to Russia today that Communist East Germany's armed May Day parade through East Berlin threatened the security of the four-power city. In identical notes, the United States, Britain and France declared that the parade of nearly 6,000 goose-stepping infantrymen of the new Communist "national people's army" violated the city's special status and "ran counter to the desire for relaxation of tension."

Case Put Over

The case of Harold Acker, 23, of RD 1, Box 194, who was arrested at 8:35 p. m. Wednesday on a charge of driving at a dangerous speed on Albany avenue near Clinton avenue, was put over to May 18 when he appeared in City Court today.

Coach House Play Enjoyed, Second Staging Tonight

"Love Me Long," a breezy comedy about romance and apartment-hunting, opened a two-night stand yesterday before an enthusiastic audience.

The show, staged by the Coach House Players at the George Washington School, will have another performance tonight at 8:30. Tickets can be purchased at the door.

Eve Wulff was outstanding in the part of Abby, a slightly dizzy actress and veteran of two marriages and two divorces by the same husband. John Glennon competently and amusingly portrayed her dull but good-hearted present husband while Stanley London was suitably cynical as her former husband. Attractive Joan Hansen turned in a fine performance as Mr. London's practical-minded, straight-laced fiancée.

The story concerns Miss Abby's efforts to hold onto her apartment while her former husband and his intended bride battle for the same apartment. Their lives become irreparably tangled as each couple decides to exercise squatters' rights to the place. All this is complicated further when Abby feels the urge to take up with her former husband where they left off seven years before.

It all adds up to a delightful evening's entertainment as the four strive to unravel the threads of their lives. The principals are ably aided and abetted by fine performances in small parts by Kay Levy, a distracted decorator, and Sara Mulligan, a substitute in the role of a maid.

Others in the fine cast included Richard Becker, Ed Finn, Margaret Donnelly, Don Gregory and Roy Wulff. The director is Houston Richards.

Of special note was the perfectly planned and executed scenery and lighting. The costumes and make-up by Coach House staffers added to the quality of the show. Proceeds will benefit the Coach House Players' scholarship fund.

91 in Frisco

San Francisco, May 17 (AP)—Normally cooled comfortably by ocean breezes, San Francisco unexpectedly produced hot weather news oddities yesterday. The temperature reached a record 91. Sunlight beaming through a Roos Bros. store window on Market street turned on the fire extinguishing sprinklers. When Officer Thomas G. Gryder started his motorcycle to pursue a Bayshore Freeway speeder, the super-heated gas tank blasted flames six feet high. Gryder jumped free and was not burned.

Treatment Advised

New York, May 17 (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Clare Booth Luce, who returned suddenly from her Rome post because of illness, has been advised to remain here for treatment for the next two months. Dr. Milton Rosenbluth, her physician, said today "at that time I would anticipate for her a complete recovery." Emphasizing that he was speaking with her permission, Dr. Rosenbluth issued this statement: "Mrs. Luce is suffering from a chronic enteritis which appears to be related to an infection of the liver which she had while abroad. She has as well a moderately severe iron deficiency anemia probably due to the same cause. She received one transfusion yesterday and will require others."

Treasury Receipts

Washington, May 17 (AP)—The cash position of the treasury May 14: Balance, $5,677,972.29; deposits fiscal year July 1, $60,786,182,141.12; withdrawals fiscal year, $61,580,996,368.57; total debt, (x) $275,742,238,888.61; gold assets, $21,768,889,605.98; (x)—includes $465,721,172.30 debt not subject to statutory limit.

200 Persons Attend 1956 Frolics Show

Tillson, May 15—The Frolics of '56, stage show and dance sponsored by the Tillson Parent-Teachers Association, was held at the Tillson School Saturday night with over 200 people attending. Wendell Scherer and his orchestra furnished music for dancing from 10 p. m. to midnight.

The Tillson School band, under the direction of Anthony Merola, opened the stage show. Dancers from Lucille's Dance Studio in Kingston were seen in a number of acts. Among the dancers were Shelley Greenwald, Jean Hessdorfer, Sandie Weber, Joan Alecca, Karole Lessick and Judith Menzel.

Comedy was interjected into the show at several points by Bob Tremper of Ulster Park. Miss Barbara Crosley, of Bovina and Kingston, soprano soloist, was heard.

The King's Chorus, directed by Donald Romme of Kingston, was well received by the audience.

Another choral group, composed of all male members, the mid-Hudson chapter of the society for the preservation and encouragement of barbershop quartet singing in America, also received much applause for their fine singing. This comparatively new choral group, which meets Monday evenings at the Legion home in Kingston, is offering membership to area men who are interested in singing. The group is directed by Ronald Gibbons of Mt. Marion.

The show was directed by H. E. Harvey of Tillson, who also acted as master of ceremonies on the show. Walter Born was stage manager.

Should South bid one no-trump in today's hand? The experts disagree on this issue.

The opening bid shows 16 to 18 points, balanced distribution, and strength in at least three suits. South's hand follows all of these rules. Where is the disagreement?

Most experts say that the opening bid of one no-trump should not be made when you have a worthless doubleton. They don't mind bidding no-trump with a worthless tripleton, but they don't like worthless doubletons. At any rate, that's what the experts say for publication. In actual practice, almost all experts go right ahead and bid one no-trump anyway. As a result, they sometimes get to game in no-trump with one suit wide open, as in today's hand.

South looked carefully at the dummy before he played the first card. There would be tricks to burn if the club finesse succeeded. If the finesse lost however, the danger of a shift to hearts was enough to make the stoutest heart quail.

Fortunately for him, South had a crafty brain and a stout heart. He won the first trick with the ace of spades instead of with the queen.

Then South led a diamond to dummy and tried the club finesse. West won with the king of clubs and led another low spade. He was sure his partner had the queen of spades, and he didn't want the suit to block.

This was, of course, exactly what South had been planning. Declarer won the second spade with the queen and rattled off his tricks in clubs and diamonds. It's all right to take a chance now and then if you're crafty enough to wriggle out of danger.

Will Probe Death Of Girl in Field

Olean, N. Y., May 17 (P)—A 20-year-old girl found dead in a field near here April 22 died of barbiturate poisoning, according to a coroner's finding.

Coroner William L. Mac Duffie said yesterday, however, that the death of Ellen D. Peters of Freedom would be investigated further before a death certificate was issued.

Miss Peters was found dead under a blanket in a field on her father's farm.

Mac Duffie said there was no indication of foul play, but he said he was not satisfied that the girl would have gone into the field carrying a blanket to commit suicide.

He said it was possible, however, that the girl may have taken the barbiturate in her home and wandered into the field in a coma, which he said preceded barbiturate poisoning.

Town of Rochester To Talk Insurance At Special Parley

Regular town board meeting of the town of Rochester was held May 9 with all members present. Bills amounting to $724.37 were voted paid.

A special meeting will be called in the near future to meet R. Mack, an authority on insurance, to make corrections on insurance held by the town.

Several complaints on road conditions were voiced and this situation will be corrected as quickly as possible. The board set the salary of the Deputy Clerk at $1 an hour to be paid in the absence of the town clerk.

The town board voted unanimously to adopt the following resolution: "Whereas the town clerk of the Town of Rochester has appointed a deputy clerk in the person of one, Percy Gazley, and whereas the deputy town clerk has acted in a limited capacity up to the present date, and due to the admitted ill health of the town clerk and her frequent absences from the performance of her duties for reasons unknown to this board, the residents of the town and others are inconvenienced due to the absence of said clerk, now be it resolved, that, although at the time of the appointment of Deputy Clerk Gazley, there was unanimous disapproval by the town board, and we still feel that the selection of the candidate for the appointment was an unfortunate one, this board, rather than inconvenience the residents of this town, do hereby grant to the choice of the town clerk full power to act in her place and stead in her absence."

The next town board meeting will be June 13.

Savings Bonds Affords Future Education Funds

Educating the bumper crop of American children born each year since 1942 is a problem for parents as well as the community. More school rooms, more teachers and more school equipment are required at the cost of more taxes. Parents also have to provide the cost of sending the children to school and college. This calls for a major outlay of cash each year.

"This is where a regular program of bond saving through the years can solve another problem of family finances," says William F. Edelmuth, chairman of the Ulster County Savings Bonds Committee. "The 15th anniversary this year of the Series E Bond, which millions of Americans own, points up the value of a regular saving program for education."

"The Treasury doesn't know how many millions of savings bond dollars have gone into the education of young Americans," he said. "When a bondholder goes into a bank to cash bonds he isn't required to tell what he intends to do with the money, but many times the banker will be told that this is college money that we've been saving right along." Education is one of the specific goals for which the saving bonds program has been encouraging Americans to save for the past 15 years. So, while we have no figures to show how many young people have been put through or helped through college and professional schools in this way, we know the total would be impressive.

"Six months after the Defense Bond program was launched on May 1, 1941, Pearl Harbor plunged the nation into war and the work into overtime work. The birth rate, greatly reduced during the depression of the 1930's, continued to climb until 1947 and has not fallen off much since then. Extra babies mean extra provision for education. And a good way to provide for education is to buy Savings Bonds regularly."

Max Lerner, journalist, author and educator will be the principal speaker at the Catskill Zone Conference of the United Jewish Appeal, Sunday, May 27, at Grossingers, it was announced this week by Paul Grossinger, conference chairman, and Charles Brown of Loch Sheldrake and Dave Levinson of Ellenville, conference co-chairmen.

Mr. Lerner, whose column on national and international affairs in the New York Post is widely read, will report to the conference on the tense and ominous developments affecting Jewish lives and freedom overseas, and the vital role of the UJA.

The conference will begin at 3 p. m. There will be no solicitation of funds, the conference officers said.

an opportunity for public display of its patriotic intentions.

"OF COURSE we must not forget the most serious and actually only important intent of this whole observance—that by this display we honor our war dead and none of us are exempt from considering this a responsibility."

"We know that there are some people who do not believe a parade is the proper way to observe such a serious day of remembrance. I fully respect the opinions of these people, but I do believe that since a parade is the form that is universally used, and seems to have most public acceptance, we should go along with it and participate."

The chairman urged any group wishing to participate in the parade to contact him. He said the complete parade order has been made and will be distributed within a few days.

RENEWALS TAX PLEA
Washington, May 17 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey renews before the Senate Finance Committee today his plea for more taxes to finance the proposed highway program.

Humphrey was listed as the opening witness at two days of hearings on tax features of the multibillion dollar road construction bill. He will be followed by spokesmen for highway industry and user groups. Chairman Byrd (D-Va.) said the committee will meet Monday to vote on the bill and send it to the Senate floor.

OVERNIGHT LOW temperatures ranging from 24 at Saranac Lake in the Adirondacks to 38.8 in New York city broke records for the date in many places. These included Ithaca's 25.8, Rochester's 29, Syracuse's 31, Buffalo's 32 and New York city's 38.8.

Saranac Lake residents awoke this morning to find a quarter of an inch of snow.

Snow flurries also fell in Syracuse, Utica, Massena, Cortland, Watertown, Binghamton, Rochester and Ithaca.

IN ALBANY, the Tulip City, some tulips turned black. The weather bureau said the frost was limited to sheltered areas.

It will be warmer tonight, the bureau predicted.

New York city's low was .2 of a degree below the 1891 reading and the Buffalo mark of 32 was two degrees below the mark set the same year. Rochester's previous low for the date was 33.

Other readings were: Syracuse, 31; Utica, 29; Olean, 26; Elmira, 27; Binghamton, 25; Poughkeepsie, 31; Watertown, 30; Massena, 27; Plattsburg, 34; and Glens Falls, 33.

The cool air swept in from the Hudson Bay.

State Approves $1,450 Grant for New Paltz Work

Approval of a state grant of $1,450 to the village of New Paltz to prepare preliminary plans for a sewer system and treatment plant, estimated to cost $290,000 to construct, was announced today by John W. Johnson, state superintendent of public works.

Superintendent Johnson's announcement said, "The present sewer system of the village is inadequate, consisting only of private sewers, poorly located and in a bad state of repair. All sewage is at present discharged untreated into the Wallkill river, which is in conformity with the standards for this stream as determined by the Water Pollution Control Board of the State Department of Health, the announcement added.

Predicts Niagara Bill Won't Pass in House

Buffalo, N. Y., May 17 (AP)—The president of the Niagara Mohawk Power Corp. predicts that the Niagara power bill passed by the Senate yesterday will be defeated when it comes up in the House.

Earle J. MacHold was asked last night to comment on the Senate's passage of a bill that would give the state of New York authority to build new power plants at Niagara Falls.

MacHold said the House in 1953 voted 262 to 120 in favor of the Miller-Capeharat bill which favored private development of Niagara Falls power.

"It's not likely there could be enough change in sentiment in the House to pass the Lehman bill (the Senate bill)," MacHold said.

The power company executive said, however, that passage of the bill by the House would not pose a serious threat to Niagara Mohawk or to other private power enterprises.

MacHold predicted the Niagara Mohawk itself would double its generating resources in the next five to 10 years at an estimated cost of half a billion dollars.

He said the corporation is now spending $60,000,000 dollars to increase the capacity of its Huntley station on the Niagara river 400,000 kilowatts.

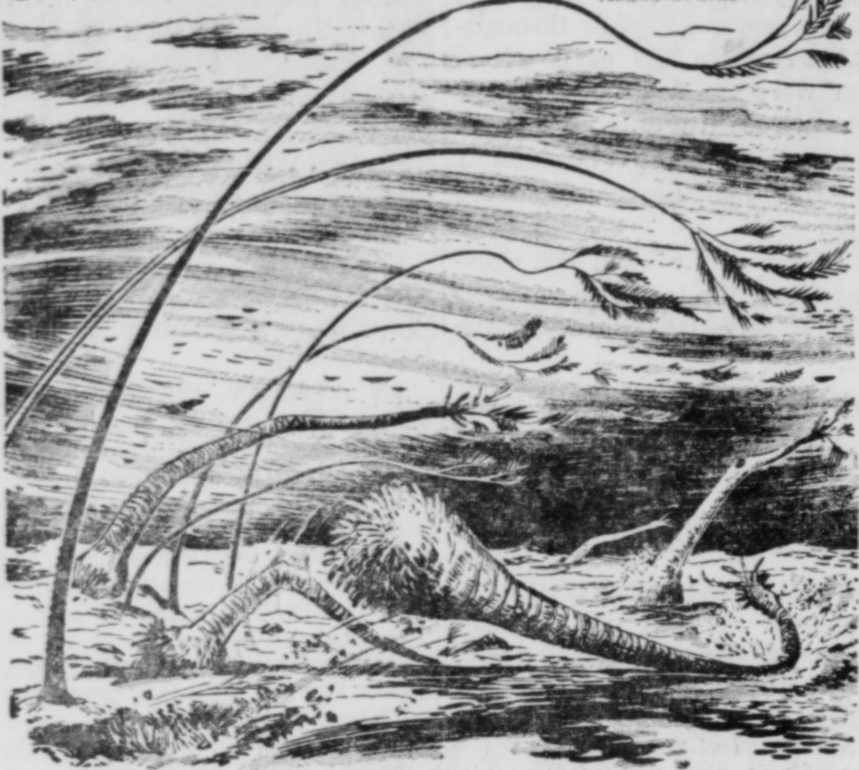

MacHold was here to attend a dinner of company employees.

Jean Hersholt Honored

Hollywood, May 17 (AP)—The movie industry honored one of its most universally beloved members last night—actor Jean Hersholt. Most of the big names in Hollywood turned out to pay tribute to the one-time Danish immigrant whom many regard as the industry's greatest humanitarian. But the occasion was a little sad, too. Hersholt, in ill health, left a sickbed under a doctors' care to attend the civic testimonial honoring his 50th year as an actor. He is 69.

KINGSTON TEACHER GROUP DINES—Among the members and guests of the Kingston Teacher's Association attending the annual banquet at the Flamingo, Route 9W, Wednesday night were seated (l-r) Mrs. William Murray, delegate to the state convention; Mrs. Earl Soper, Mrs. Frank Jones, president of the KTA and Mrs. Robert Macdonald; standing (l-r) William Murray, Superintendent of Schools Earl

Soper, Frank Jones and Robert Macdonald, administrative assistant of Kingston schools. Superintendent Soper spoke briefly and commented on the fine spirit of cooperation and fellowship on the part of the faculty members. The banquet was arranged by Robert Barnhart and John Finch. Dancing concluded the program. (Freeman photo)

'Drag Strip' Is Still Sought by Igniters Club

The Kingston Igniters, local hot-rod club, organized about a year ago, is still looking for a "drag strip."

To the layman, this is a flat straightaway at least a quarter of a mile long to be used in timed runs from a stationary position.

So far they have met with no success, according to County Jailer Carl Cline, one of the founding "sparks" of the Igniter organization.

The object of the drag strip speed runs is to give young drivers—both boys and girls—an opportunity to "let off steam," Mr. Cline explains.

It takes them off the streets and gives them a chance to "get the speed out of their systems." The drag runs would be carefully supervised by qualified officials.

AN ORGANIZATION such as the Igniters also gives young people an opportunity to take apart and study automobile engines, Mr. Cline said. For this the club needs a "grease pit," however—a small garage. Mr. Cline said they had been offered a piece of land on which a clubhouse and grease pit could be built but that the Igniters had no funds to proceed with construction.

He said the club would welcome any public assistance in obtaining a drag, construction materials for a clubhouse, help in building such a clubhouse, etc. Or, perhaps the club might consider renting a house, if it could be obtained cheaply, for use as a clubhouse.

HE SAID the Igniters would like very much to hear from the public—what it thinks about a "hot-rod" club, the objectives of such an organization, its psychological value, etc. Communications may be addressed to Mr. Cline at the Ulster county sheriff's office, Kingston.

Mr. Cline said that in order to drive an automobile on a measured course (drag) the car must be carefully checked and be in perfect condition. The young man (or woman) must have permission of his parents and carry insurance.

He said the boys were willing to work to earn some money—"even to sweeping the streets."

IN ADDITION to learning about automobiles, a "hot-rod" club offers opportunities for the young people to learn about traffic safety, road courtesies, etc., Mr. Cline explained.

Leroy Wells, owner of the White Star Transfer Co., has donated expensive trophies to be awarded to Igniter members with perfect driving records for six-month, one-year and five-year periods respectively.

Gus Lovy, president of the club, said interest in hot-rod racing was spreading, that Robert Berberich of the Poughkeepsie Police Athletic League had conferred with local hot-rod leaders early this week about establishing a club in that city.

Iceland Air Base Work Held Up, Times Reports

New York, May 17 (AP)—The New York Times said today that all work on an air base to be built for the United States in Iceland has been "temporarily held up."

The newspaper said in a story from Charlotte, N. C., that the full complement of 28 engineers sent to Reykjavik by the J. A. Jones Co. has been brought home.

COMPANY officials were "unwilling," the Times said, to discuss the reason for the engineers' return, but confirmed the callback. The Jones concern is the prime contractor on the job.

The story said a dispatch from Reykjavik reported the U. S. Navy had informed Icelandic contractors that negotiations on all new or additional building in Iceland had been suspended indefinitely. According to the Times, orders to that effect were said to have been issued by the Defense Department in Washington because of uncertainty about Iceland's defense intentions.

LAST MARCH 28, Iceland's Parliament formally called for withdrawal of all Atlantic alliance units. U. S. troops constituted the only treaty forces in Iceland.

Last month, however, Dr. Kristinn Gudmundsson, Iceland's foreign minister, said his country was "not in a great hurry" to have U. S. troops depart.

Gudmundsson said the resolution had not meant that Iceland had turned neutral or had turned against the Atlantic alliance.

The Iceland defense force now includes only a battalion-size army unit, one air force fighter squadron, a navy air patrol squadron and a handful of navy ships, the Times said.

Half Million Dishes

A typical U. S. homemaker will wash a half million separate dishes in a lifetime, about 70 stacks as high as the Empire State Building, one survey indicates.

SNAKES ALIVE—Standing at a relatively safe distance, Banker Joe Durham of Okene, Okla., catches a rattlesnake, thanks to a clever snagging device. It's all part of the annual rattlesnake hunt sponsored by the local Junior Chamber of Commerce. This year's hunt brought in 2400 live snakes. Venom is sold to makers of snake-bite serum and best of the snakes go to zoos.

Illiteracy Continues

Mexico City (AP)—At the rate things are going now, it will take another 25 years to wipe out illiteracy in this capital, not even counting the ever increasing growth in population. That is the estimate of Concepcion Espino Barrios, of the Social Security Institute, who is seeking to step up a campaign for each educated person to teach at least one other the elements of reading and writing. This district of around four million has a half million who cannot read and write she says. Present rate of teaching is 20,000 per year, not including ordinary instruction of children.

About 60 per cent of Americans are home owners.

Priest, Beaten, Robbed

New York, May 17 (AP)—A Roman Catholic priest was beaten up and robbed by two men last night on Morningside avenue, between 124th and 125th streets, police reported. The victim was identified by police as the Rev. Eugene De Francisco, about 40 years old, a chaplain at Rikers Island High School, 74 W. 124th street in Harlem. The priest's watch, a carton of cigarettes and 4 cents were taken by the robber who escaped.

ways at Middletown Memorial Day and the Peekskill Stadium the night of June first.

Top drivers will be seen chauffeuring all the popular brand cars for prize money. The Mid-City program at the Orange County Fairgrounds is set for 2 p. m.

Fabric for Planes

Limestone, Maine (AP) — You may have thought fabric-covered aircraft went out with prohibition. But some of the biggest and most modern planes have fabric on their control surfaces, such as ailerons, rudders and elevators. Loring Air Force Base in Limestone, one of the nation's largest, has a Field Maintenance Squadron that keeps busy repairing the fabric on 45 huge KC-97 aerial tankers which refuel fighters and bombers in the air. The maintenance men have a machine, that tells when the fabric is wearing too thin for safety.

Then all the old fabric is replaced. It takes five coats of clear dope and two coats of aluminum dope—with plenty of sanding between—to put a flyable finish on the new control surface.

Crime and Education

Mexico City (AP)—The amount of crime in this country is closely related to the degree of education, according to a report by the government statistical office. During 1955, 27,943 persons were sentenced for various crimes. Of these 9,541 had no school instruction; 8,988 went to school three years; 3,200 had six years of schooling; 260, nine years; 53 went to university and 52 completed professional training. No scholastic record was available for the others.

School and P-TA Officials Talk About Consolidation

Problems related to consolidation and faced by outlying small school districts were discussed by a panel of school and P-TA officials at a meeting of the P-TA Council held May 14 at Kingston High School Library. Panel members included Lester Roosa, district superintendent; Walter Van Wagenen, principal of the Woodstock School; Edward Dingeldey, president of the board of education of the town of Ulster; and Benson Krom, former member of the Hurley School Board and a representative of the Hurley School P-TA.

Mr. Roosa brought out two main points: 1. That better educational opportunities could be offered for all our children in and out of Kingston and 2. That both sides must be well informed and help those in their districts to understand what they're going to give up, what they're going to gain, but to put consolidation of future children's needs first, rather than whether one section will outnumber another on a board of education.

It was pointed out by Earl Soper, superintendent of Kingston schools, that a board of education for the new district would be for everybody; that there would be a transition period where the board would be partially elected and partially appointed because the plan by law would be to elect a new board member from anywhere within the new district to replace each of the existing board members as their term expired.

Mr. Roosa also said that many schools which now have to operate part time school schedules are the ones which have put off facing the future enrollment problem. Mr. Soper added that he had requests right now on his desk from certain districts for fifth and sixth grade pupils to be sent to Kingston due to their districts' overcrowded conditions.

Mr. Van Wagenen in discussing the school in Woodstock said that the state department classified it as a medium school in regard to enrollment and facilities; a school where the principal acts as janitor, secretary to board, teacher etc. He described their very fine program in art, music, science, gym, physical education and home economics. He indicated that the people of Woodstock by now are fairly well educated to the fact that they will have to pay for the good education they desire for their children, one way or another.

He emphasized that the co-operation between Woodstock and Kingston has been particularly fine in the past. In regard to consolidation, Mr. Van Wagenen stressed two points (1) that he feels we first need to hear the Head Commission report coming soon from Albany and (2) that he felt that however settled, each district will have had certain individual considerations and that they will be pleased and change. The purpose of the group was to cooperatively and mutually plan and agree on such things as transportation, instructional program, where buildings would be located and how consolidation would affect the area. Whereas the plans forwarded were based only on these things, the confusion that entered the picture was due to the fact that several situations were happening all at once; namely, the new formula for state aid was being formed separately and apart from this planning group, Mr. Soper said.

MANY-NUMBERED SHACK—The shack in Bellaire, Mich., shown above, is covered with more than 8,000 auto license plates. Owner Charles Sexton, an 80-year-old retired railway employe, has been collecting license plates since 1909.

MAN OF MANY COLLECTIONS—Charles Sexton, an 80-year-old retired railway employe of Bellaire, Mich., sits happily in his shack, covered inside and out with auto license plates. Sexton has collected over the years such items as mounted moose heads, ball-and-cap shotguns, deer antlers, a stuffed bobcat, birds of all sorts, beer caps, bear signs, old pictures, ancient tools, and more than 8,000 license plates.

The new formula, as explained, states that each district must spend $6.80 per $1,000 of the district's true evaluation for educational facilities, thus equalizing educational opportunities for all districts on a financial basis.

The formula further states that completely consolidated school districts (that is any school that sends all their children to other schools) would lose state aid and those schools with less than eight teachers would lose state aid unless the $6.80 per $1,000 on true evaluation is less than the state aid earned by the average daily attendance at school.

Mr. Soper outlined the problem to Kingston up until now of not knowing how many to build for or what facilities are needed, which is based on not knowing each year what 25 or 30 outside districts may want to do. In the past, it has been that non-residents could be taken almost on a moment's notice but now there just isn't sufficient space to take in more. Mr. Soper indicated that any advantage coming from consolidation would not be a bonus for Kingston alone, but the bonus comes only by all districts coming together to afford an enriched program and extended services for all districts.

In order for consolidation to be consummated, petitions would first be signed by the people of a rural area and then come to a vote there in the rural area; then it comes to Kingston, where the issue would come to a vote by the Kingston Board of Education who in turn might wish to submit it to a vote of the people in the city.

Richard E. McNaughton, manager of Education Division, Kingston IBM plant and chairman of high school P-TA steering committee, acted as moderator for the panel.

The next meeting of the P-TA Council will be held June 11 when a mental health program will be presented. A committee of Mrs. George Dingee, Gerald Shampo and Keron O'Neil was appointed to complete the plans.

Two Die in Fire

Idaho Falls, Idaho, May 17 (AP)—A fire burned out three rooms of a private home for the aged last night, killing two men and injuring seven others. Twenty-eight patients, many of them bedridden, were evacuated safely from the Porter Rest Home, a fairly new, one-story brick building. The dead were Henry Alfred Ward, 84, and L. Bernard Bood, 64.

Leaving School Job

Albany, N. Y., May 17 (AP)—The last of the state's original district school superintendents plans to retire. The Education Department announced today that Guyon J. Carter, 70, of Avoca, would step down in June from the job to which he was first elected 45 years ago. He is superintendent of a northern Steuben county district that includes Avoca, Cohocton, Prattsburg and Wayland. Carter was one of 180 district superintendents elected Aug. 15, 1911, in the first election under a then-new law providing for supervisory districts. The Education Department noted that Carter's superintendency covered a period in which teacher salaries rose from a range of $300-$1,000 to $3,700-$7,000. His district's income went from $55,000 the first year to $1,200,000 last year.

Charter Night Is June 10 for Area Barber Singers

Ronald Gibbons, president and director of the newly-formed Kingston Mid-Hudson Chapter, Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc., has announced that the society will present the local chapter it's charter on June 10 at 8:15 p. m.

A special charter night program has been planned to take place at the First Baptist Church Auditorium, Albany avenue at Broadway here which includes the acceptance of the charter and an evening of barber shop singing by the local group and guest quartets. Among the visiting quartets will be the "Upstaters" and "Chordcombers" from Gloversville, recently featured on TV Showcase, a musical program originating at WRGB, Schenectady. Also singing will be quartets from Hudson, Schenectady and a named quartet from New Jersey.

The local organization was formed in January of this year and rehearses on Monday evenings at the American Legion building on West O'Reilly street. Male singers interested in becoming members are urged to contact the officers for details. Other officers serving are: Lowell Popp, vice president; Norman Franz, treasurer and David Seto, secretary.

Tickets for the June 10th program are available from members or at the door.

WAITIN' FOR THE RAIN TO COME IN—In downtown Pittsburgh, Pa., shoppers don't have to let a smile be their umbrella on those rainy rainy days. A popular drugstore keeps about 40 umbrellas on hand, free for anyone to borrow. In the first year of its goodwill service, the store has not lost one umbrella as a result of dishonesty. Taking advantage of the free-lending offer is Virginia Barnett, a local shopper.

GOP Is Warned Not to Rest on Ike's Popularity

Niagara Falls, N. Y., May 17 (AP)—Rep. Charles A. Halleck warns that Republicans should not be complacent about the forth-coming national elections because of "the great popularity of President Eisenhower."

The Indiana Republican last night predicted a Republican sweep in November but he added that "the great popularity of President Eisenhower leaves no room for complacency on the part of that party in the coming election."

"Republicans lost control of the Congress in 1954," he said, "because we did not get the story of our accomplishments across to the voters. We face a similar challenge between now and November."

Halleck spoke before more than 200 persons at a $50-a-plate dinner sponsored by the Niagara County Republican Committee.

In another speech, Republican State Chairman L. Judson Morhouse said the people of New York state have had enough of what he called Gov. Harriman's "warmed-over New Deal."

Science Council Meets

An association of leaders in industry and science recently convened at the IBM Research Laboratory for a luncheon meeting provided by IBM and arranged by Ray W. Wolslegel. The organization, an outgrowth of an original ASME American Society of Mechanical Engineers, ACS American Chemical Society and Texas Research Club group met to plan a future meeting date, pick a name and choose a permanent chairman. It was decided that the group will be known as The Mid Hudson Science Advisory Council. It was decided to have the next meeting at New Paltz State Teachers College Friday, May 18, at 8 p. m.

About 80 million tons of freight were moved on the Mississippi river in 1955.

KEEPING OUT THE UNINVITED

A bride-to-be writes me: "My wedding reception will be held in a hall. From the past experiences of some of my friends, there have been several so-called 'crashers' at these gatherings. In order to avoid this, would it be permissible to write 'No one will be admitted without this card' at the bottom of the reception invitations?"

Answer: As such cards seem necessary in your case, although not usual, it would not be improper. I would suggest engraving at the bottom of the reception card, "This card necessary for admission"—then you will have someone stationed at the door to the reception to admit only those with cards.

May She Invite Him?

Dear Mrs. Post: Several months ago a young man came to work for the company that I work for. He is a very nice person and I have become quite fond of him and I believe he is fond of me too—at least his actions in the office seem to indicate this. However, he is a very reserved person and although I believe he would like to ask me to go out with him, he has never done so. May I take the initiative and invite him to a large dance that is being given by a club to which I belong?

Answer: If it is a dance to which the girls are inviting the men, you may certainly invite him. But otherwise, no!

Wedding Guest In White

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been invited to a wedding which will take place in two weeks. I have a very pretty white dress (ballerina length) which I had planned on wearing, but a friend of mine tells me that it would be in very bad taste to wear white to a wedding. I have never heard of this and would like your opinion before buying another dress.

Answer: If the dress is all white with a full skirt, adding a colored sash, or other colored accessory would make it all right. But if the entire costume is white, its effect would be questionable.

Should table linens be monogrammed, and if so, where should it be placed? This and many other suggestions on the types of linen for various occasions are included in leaflet E-32, "Table Linens." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, care of The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Alumnae of Holyoke College to Help Fund Campaign

South Hadley, Mass., May 17 —A "New Approach" to alumnae giving at Mount Holyoke College will be undertaken next fall when each of the approximately 13,500 alumnae in the United States will be visited personally by an alumna solicitor. The alumnae fund committee, which initiated the personal visit plan, hopes to achieve a goal of $250,000.

Local committees are now being organized for the intensive five-week campaign which will begin early in October. Chairman of the Ulster county "community" is Mrs. Robert F. Moseley, 103 Albany avenue.

"The primary purpose of the 'New Approach,' Mrs. Richard A. Meade of Closter, N. J., chairman of the committee, said recently, "is to increase each individual's contribution to the college. We hope to bring each alumna closer to the problems of education, and to establish a personal link between the college and the individual alumna."

Mount Holyoke was first among women's colleges in percentage of alumnae givers last year, with 67 per cent contributing. A record total of over $100,000 was raised.

Under the personal visit plan the country is divided into 180 "communities," each supervised by an alumna chairman appointed by Miss Gertrude V. Bruyn, director of the college development program. Each local chairman will select her own vice-chairman, who will succeed her the following year, and a committee of solicitors. A similar plan has been notably successful at Princeton University.

Harriman Charges Farmers Are Neglected
Idaho Falls, Idaho, May 17 (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman said last night the Eisenhower administration is "destroying the family farm."
Addressing the Idaho Falls

Jefferson-Jackson dinner, the New York Democrat accused the administration of "callous neglect of agriculture."
Harriman, who has said repeatedly during his campaign-style swing through the west that he isn't an "active" candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, stops over in Salt Lake City today for seven hours.

His aides scheduled three speaking appearances in Salt Lake City, plus a press conference and a round of meetings, including separate conferences with young Democrats, Utah labor leaders and officials of the Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) Church.

One-Way Traffic Plan
121 Pearl Street
Kingston, N. Y.
May 16, 1956

Editor, The Freeman:
In a recent issue of The Freeman, Mayor Stang made several suggestions for facilitating the operation of the new one-way traffic plan on uptown streets.

As this subject involves public safety and public health, it should transcend partisan politics. I trust you will agree that it is therefore an appropriate subject for public discussion.

My purpose is not to complain about conditions or to criticize public officials. On the contrary, I should like to cooperate, and I believe that one form of cooperation is in pointing out certain weak spots in the plan that were obviously not anticipated.

To the residents of the affected sections, it has become apparent that one result of the plan has been to create extremely heavy concentrations of traffic at certain points, notably on Pearl street between Washington and Clinton avenues.

Anyone using Pearl street will testify that this street has been converted into what amounts to an unrestricted truck route.

Surely, the planners did not anticipate this condition.
Pearl street is on a direct line with Albany avenue. Traffic was very heavy here even before the greatly increased influx under the new arrangement.

Great lumbering, heavily loaded tractor-trailers, oil tanks, and every known type of motor-driven vehicle are day and night converging on Pearl street from Washington avenue, Green street, and Fair street. This traffic is flowing chiefly from Route 28, Route 209, and from the Thruway, including traffic headed for 9W, northbound and southbound, directed into Pearl street by the 9W sign posted at the corner of Washington avenue.

The people of this area are deeply concerned with the hazards resulting from the traffic concentrations I have described. They believe that we have here a serious threat to human life and to public safety and that the situation calls for prompt, intelligent action by responsible officials. I shall deeply appreciate your publishing this letter as a public service.

Gratefully yours,
JOSEPH J. MORGAN.

Teacher Recognition Resolution Offered

A resolution in conjunction with the observance of Teacher Recognition Day, Monday, May 21 was offered this week at a meeting of the Board of Education of Wallkill Central School District 1.

The proclamation calls attention to the greatness and far-reaching importance of the work of teachers in the communities of the State and nation and locally cites the teachers of the Wallkill School who "have been rendering willing, conscientious and unselfish service often without public note of such service, to the boys and girls of the district."

so that they may acquire the knowledge, skills and ideals needed for a useful and satisfying life."

It calls upon the parents and all citizens of the district to acknowledge by thoughts, words and deeds "the inescapable fact that teachers greatly influence the lives of the young people in the community, to accept teachers as co-partners in the training of children, and to give them the support and encouragement necessary to help them carry out their vital role in the community."

Jewelry Recovered

Beverly Hills, Calif., May 17 (AP)—A suitcase containing $100,000 worth of jewelry owned by the wife of one of the Warner Brothers has been recovered at a hotel's lost and found department. Disappearance of the bag was reported by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Warner after their plane landed in New York. The movie executive thought it had been placed on the plane with their other luggage. A housekeeper at the Beverly Hills Hotel recalled yesterday that a bag, left in the Warners' suite when they left Sunday, had been turned over to lost and found. Police checked the bag and found all the jewels safe.

Man Hunter Retires

Hale Center, Tex. (AP)—J. Frank Norfleet, the man hunter, has retired. "Of course, you have to tie him down," say members of his family. He's 91 years old now. It was in 1919 that Norfleet was in Dallas, Tex. when a gang of swindlers got the $30,000 with which he planned to buy a ranch. He resolved to track down the members of the gang. Over the United States and Canada he traveled. Two swindlers were taken into custody in Los Angeles. Another was captured in Georgia. A fourth was found in Salt Lake City, then another in Los Angeles. In five years he rounded up the men who swindled him. By this time he was a renowned detective and enjoyed the role. He made a career hunting down confidence men. At one time he rounded up 41 swindlers in Denver. Many times his life was in danger. His man-hunting career lasted about 20 years during which he stalked and caught more than 100 swindlers.

AMERICAN MENUGlazed Ham, Cold Turkey Right for Large Buffet

BEAUTIFUL GLAZED, boneless ham with perfectly sliced cold roast turkey make a handsome buffet for a wedding.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

A large wedding luncheon at home calls for careful planning and a written time table. We asked Mrs. Beth Bailey McLean of Chicago, director of home economics department of Swift and Company, to tell us how she managed the buffet for 60 guests when her daughter Janet was married.

As to costs, Mrs. McLean says they will vary in different parts of the country and on the size of servings, also on time of year. Here is her experienced advice: Select foods that can be prepared a day or two in advance with only rolls and coffee needing last-minute heating. Select and arrange the serving platters on the buffet table a week or more ahead of time. Consider the right size and shape. If color is used, keep the color scheme in mind for the dishes as well as the food. Paste a label on each platter and write on it the name of the food. Sketch the platter arrangement so that the last-minute placing of the food can be done quickly and in the planned sequence.

Set up small tables with linen, silver and glasses the day before. Cover with plastic cloths to keep free of dust and in place.

Roast an unstuffed 24 to 25-pound turkey one or two days before service. This size bird will require about 7 hours in a slow oven (325 degrees F.). Brush well with salad oil. Cool quickly. Cover with foil and keep in the refrigerator. At service time, have an experienced carver serve each guest.

Use a canned boneless ham. Cut a 12 to 13-pound ham into uniform 3/4-inch slices, then cut through the center lengthwise to make 60 to 70 servings. Tie the ham into shape with string and place it on a rack set over foil or a cookie sheet.

To glaze: Make 1-quart of strawberry flavored gelatin according to the package directions. Stir and cool until the gelatin is the thickness of coffee cream. Pour the gelatin over the cold ham to form a smooth glaze on top and on the sides.

Cut strawberries in half and arrange in a flower pattern on top of the ham. Pour half teaspoon of gelatin over each berry. Let set until glaze is firm, then keep cold until service time. Slide the ham onto an oblong platter and garnish with tender lettuce or watercress.

The feature of wedding refreshments is the glorious wedding cake. This may be placed on the cleared buffet table for the ceremonial cutting of the first slice by the bride and groom. It is wise to have an experienced cake cutter finish the slicing.

Lyonsville

Lyonsville, May 16 — Lyonsville Reformed Church, the Rev. Richard B. Coons, pastor—Services will be conducted by the pastor at 11:15 a. m. Choir rehearsal is held every Thursday at 8 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Barley.

Men of Lyonsville have been invited to unite with a recently-formed men's Bible class at the Krumville Reformed Church each Sunday at 9:15 a. m.

The north side of the church roof was recently re-roofed by Kingston contractors. Painting contractors have been contacted for estimates concerning the interior painting of the church.

Ladies of the community who have met weekly during the past few weeks at the club house to quilt, completed a quilt last week, the top of which was donated by Mrs. Floyd Davis. This hand-quilted item will be on sale at the second annual auction to be held Saturday, Aug. 25. Proceeds will benefit the church repair fund.

The pastor and congregation have expressed their appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Long and five children who moved here recently upon their participation and interest in the local church. Mr. Ernest Smith, Mrs. Lucian Chetlat, Mrs. Kenneth C. Oakley and Mrs. Clyde Roosa are soliciting for the cerebral palsy drive in this area under the chairmanship of Mrs. Isaac Graham of Stone Ridge.

The community was shocked by the sudden death of Mrs. Margaret d'Ivaniyi, which occurred at her home here early Saturday night. Her only living survivor is a daughter, Mrs. Babette deGarry. Cremation took place at the Gardner-Earl Crematory in Troy.

Mrs. Frank DeFranco of this place addressed the Kripplush Home Extension Service unit on "Becoming Clothes" at a meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Harold Winchell.

Mrs. Chester Alexander and Mrs. Ray Davis have been ill at their homes. Kathy Judd was taken ill suddenly Sunday morning and was admitted to Benedictine Hospital.

J. E. Burger attended the Accord Area Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday night at the Accord Firehouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith recently celebrated their 23rd wedding anniversary. A number of local people attended the Kingston High School choir concert in which Gerald Garfman of this place appeared.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cummins entertained at dinner Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. Lester Judd and children and Clifford Cummins and friends from Union City, N. J.

Denver Expects Growth

Denver (P)—Denver's metropolitan area will have a population of one million by 1965, the Chamber of Commerce research division predicts. The chamber said a "conservative" projection of present trends indicates the population will hit 900,000 by 1960 and will top the million mark by 1965. The current population is 775,000.

Bomb Kills Sergeant

Nicosia, Cyprus, May 17 (AP)—A bomb thrown at a military vehicle near Famagusta today killed a British army sergeant major and wounded two other soldiers. The sergeant major was the second British serviceman killed in two days on this British-ruled island where a Greek Cypriot underground is waging a campaign of violence for union with Greece.

POPPY SALE STARTS IN PORT EWEN—Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth of Port Ewen buys the first poppy from Anita Weber, a member of the Ne-Top-Pew group of the Camp Fire Girls, launching the annual poppy sale sponsored by members of the Port Ewen unit of the American Legion Auxiliary. Also in the photo are (l-r) rear, Mrs. Knute Beichert, president of the Legion Auxiliary and Mrs. Chester Barth, poppy chairman. The poppy sale, scheduled to be held today throughout the area, is made possible through the work of veterans in hospitals who make the flowers and the Legion Auxiliary who conducts the sale. (Freeman photo)

Airlines Spokesmen Deny Excessive Profits

Washington, May 17 (AP)—Spokesmen for major airlines today marshaled evidence intended to convince Congress that talk of excessive airline profits is "just a lot of hogwash."

Stanley Gewirtz, vice president of the Air Transport Assn. (ATA), the major lines' trade association, told the House Judiciary subcommittee on antitrust matters yesterday his group is prepared to prove the "hogwash" assertion.

Chairman Celler (D-N.Y.) suggested Gewirtz might want to change his phraseology in the record since, Celler said, the rate of airlines' profits has been termed excessive by a former chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB), Ross Rizley.

Celler yesterday ordered the transcript of the subcommittee's investigation of the airline industry sent to the Justice Department. He said he made no charges of antitrust activity, but thought the Justice Department should see the record and decide whether airline "operations are proper."

Will Continue Story

Newburyport, Mass., May 17 (AP)—Mrs. Lorraine Clark, 30, was to go before a grand jury today to continue her story reportedly involving another person in the murder of her husband, for which she is serving life. The attractive mother of three was before the jury for an hour and 27 minutes yesterday before she was returned to the reformatory for women at Framingham. All testimony before a grand jury is secret, but published reports said the comely widow would attempt to implicate her former lover, Arthur G. Jackson, 24, in the slaying.

Recognition Day For Teachers Is Scheduled May 21

Woodstock, May 17—It is fitting that May 21, which has been proclaimed as Teacher Recognition Day in New York state, should come close to marking 20 years of service by one of Woodstock's most beloved and outstanding teachers in the elementary school. When school closes in June, Mrs. Lillis Allen will have completed 20 years of teaching in the village. But she doesn't want this record to give anyone the notion she's ready to retire—she's still going strong, loves her work and her pupils, and in turn has the affection of all who have passed through her happy and as she observes "unorthodox" classroom.

Mrs. Allen believes in making life as interesting within the classroom as her pupils find it outside, and she constantly encourages them to bring the beautiful, big world with them for study and discussion. Her system enhances rather than detracts from the classroom studies, and everyone agrees that they have a fine as well as instructive time in class.

It all came about, Mrs. Allen remembers, quite by accident. After World War I there was a shortage of teachers and she was offered a job when she was only two weeks out of high school, on a temporary basis. She decided she liked teaching, but needed the necessary training, so for the next few years she alternated between teaching jobs and going to school. Among her classmates, with whom she was graduated from the New Paltz State Teachers College, was Walter Van Wagenen, now her principal at the Woodstock School.

Born and brought up in Ulster county, she was graduated from Kingston High School, and taught in several rural schools. Before coming to Woodstock to teach, she taught in Delmar, a suburb of Albany, and in Wittenberg. Always interested in the intermediate grades, her youthful viewpoint makes her an ideal instructor of lively fourth graders which are her charges now in Woodstock.

Her large reward, which is that of any teacher who gives unselfishly of her time and ability, is to watch the achievements of her pupils as they grow up.

On Monday, May 21, Woodstock will pay tribute to the fine staff of teachers at the Woodstock School who have piloted the young people of the town through another year. Sharing honors at the Woodstock School will be Walter Van Wagenen, principal, and eighth grade; Mrs. Walter Van Wagenen, kindergarten; Mrs. Miriam Pinsley, Kingston, first grade; Mrs. Vincentsen of Phoenixia, second grade; Mrs. Eleanor Montano of Saugerties, third grade; Mrs. Lillis Allen, fourth grade; Walter Purnham, fifth grade; home room and fifth, sixth and seventh arithmetic and fifth and sixth science; Mrs. Mervin Doramus, sixth home room, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth English and reading; Frank Hancock, seventh grade and social studies and science; Joseph Gandino, art; Miss Mary Harris, music.

Artists Realty Firm Will Meet Friday, June 1

Woodstock, May 17—The annual meeting of the stockholders of Artists' Realty Company, Inc. will be held Friday, June 1, at 8 p. m. at the Woodstock Art Gallery, for the following purposes:

To elect two directors to hold office for a period of three years and until the election and qualification of their respective successors.

To consider and act upon a proposition to lease the Art Gallery to the Artists Association, Inc. for a term of 50 years with an option to renew for a like period, provided the Artists Association undertake the immediate improvement of the gallery under the terms and conditions imposed by the board of the H. E. Kleinfert memorial fund and assume full responsibility for the future repair, maintenance and operation of the gallery, at such rental and upon such additional terms and conditions as the Board of Directors, with the advice of counsel for the corporation, shall approve.

To hear reports of the officers and committee chairmen and to consider and act upon ratification and confirmation of all action taken by the Board of Directors and officers of the corporation since the last meeting of stockholders as set forth in the minutes of the meeting of the board of directors held during such period.

To consider and act upon such other matters as may properly come before the meeting.

The present board of directors of Artists' Realty Co., Inc. consists of the following members: Hugh R. Elwyn, 1953-1956; Belmont Towbin, 1954-1957; Murray Hoffman, 1954-1957; Charlotte Collins, 1954-1957; Julia Learycraft, 1955-1958; Norbert Heermann, 1955-1958; William Eisner, 1955-1958.

The Artists' Realty Co., Inc., although organized as a stock corporation, operates on a non-profit basis and its only source of income is the annual rent of $900 per year derived from the annual lease of the gallery to the Woodstock Artists Association, Inc. The Artists' Realty Co., Inc., does not have and has no way, short of borrowing, to secure funds for the improvement or enlargement of the gallery.

Committee Named For Firehouse

Woodstock, May 17 — Woodstock Fire Company No. 2 met Monday night at the Wittenberg Sportmen's Club. A special committee, comprising the officers of the company, was empowered to expedite construction of their new firehouse in Wittenberg.

Members of the committee include: Everett Cashdollar, president; Nelson Shultis, vice-president; Everard Short, treasurer; and Harley Shultis, secretary. Arthur Barone of Wittenberg, who did the plumbing work on the building, announced that his services were donated to the company and he received a rising vote of thanks from the members present.

Various ways and means of raising money for the company were discussed. Woodstock Fire Company No. 2 voted to join with Companies No. 1 and 3, as well as the Woodstock Rotary and Recreation Committee in sponsoring the Mills Brothers Circus, which will have two performances at the Andy Lee Memorial Field on Tuesday, July 3.

Local Artists Work In European Exhibit

Woodstock, May 17—An exhibit of work by 75 living American chosen artists has been sent to Europe for a year under the auspices of the State Department. Among them are the following members of the Woodstock Artists Association: Samuel Adler, Milton Avery, Arnold Blanch, Paul Burlin, Sidney Lauffman, Ethel Magafan, Sigmund Menkes, Eugene Spelcher. The touring art exhibit will be on view in the principal cities throughout Europe.

Methodist Notes

Woodstock, May 17—The Rev. Garnett M. Wilder will preach a sermon titled "A Brand Plucked From the Burning" in all churches of the Woodstock Parish, except Willow, Sunday, May 20. This sermon commemorates the anniversary of John Wesley Aldersgate conversion and the beginning of the Methodist movement. The sermon offers a challenge to those who are in the heritage of John Wesley as well as to all who would find a closer relationship with God. All interested persons are cordially invited to hear it.

The young people of Woodstock, Wittenberg, Willow and Shady will attend a youth rally in Shandaken on Saturday night, May 19. Those who are interested in going may communicate with the Rev. Mr. Wilder. The young people of the parish will present the worship program at the rally.

Scouts Hear Talk On Indian Lore

Woodstock, May 17 — In the absence of Walter Balk, the scoutmaster, Monday night's meeting of Boy Scout Troop 34 was directed by Warren Graver, Jr. and Al Hoffman.

The scouts were split up into work details to police and mow the village green and the lawns of the Woodstock Dutch Reformed Church. Another project was the scraping of the flag pole. The boys played the usual games. Bill Wingate gave an interesting talk on Indian lore. On Monday night the Boy Scout Committee met at the home of Elbert Varney to discuss future plans. Further details will be announced later.

Village Notes

Woodstock, May 17 — Mrs. Anna E. Dietz of Plochmann lane celebrated Mother's Day by giving a small dinner party. The guests were Mr. and Edwin Eberhardt of Highland and Mr. and Mrs. James Snyder of Kingston.

Norbert Heermann, Woodstock artist, attended the May Festival at the Music Hall in Cincinnati, O., the 41st biennial of this time-honored feast of song on Monday, May 7. He was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. T. Laurence Saunders of Cincinnati.

Miss Aileen Cramer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Konrad Cramer, is in London for the second time and expects to return home in the near future.

Lotte Stehr, a former Woodstock resident, is now living in Munich, Germany. During the bombing of Munich her home was the only house to survive on the city block, and she is still living in it.

Twice as Frequent

Insurance statistics show that deaths in home accidents are almost twice as frequent for men as for women although many men are at home less frequently than women.

Cardiff, Wales, was first occupied as a Roman fort in the First Century.

Moderate Vote Seen For Oregon Primary

Portland, Ore., May 17 (AP) — Election officials today predicted only a moderate vote in Oregon's primary tomorrow despite extra lively contests in the Democratic presidential and Republican senatorial races.

It was strictly a guess, however, as to the number of Democrats who will take the trouble to pencil in their choice for president. Both Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee entered the state as write-in candidates.

The winner will walk off with 16 delegates to the Democratic national convention. More than that, he is expected to gain a psychological lift for more important preferential primaries in Florida and California.

President Eisenhower is unchallenged for Oregon's 16 Republican delegates. A Portland attorney, John C. Veatch II, sent out letters yesterday urging Republicans to write in the name of former Colorado Gov. Dan Thornton for vice president. His last-minute move caused little stir.

Rotarians Hear Talk on Geology

Kingston Rotarians heard a very interesting talk by John Cerasaro, geologist, on the history of the early formation of this region as recorded in rocks. The geologist, who operates the Sports Center here, addressed the regular Wednesday luncheon-meeting of the local service club at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The Catskills, he said, are an old mountain probably two million years old and may have been two miles high. Erosive effects and glacial formations, which covered this section, wore down the peaks.

An inland sea covered this area at one time, he stated, leaving deposits of limestone and shell fossils. One of these deposits is located at the Old Lead Mill on Route 9W.

Mr. Cerasaro described a long list of rock forms in this area and answered many questions about earthquakes, radioactive ore and the Geiger gun.

Announcement was made that the local club will hold a public auction in June. The time and details will be announced. An invitation to meet with the Kiwanis Club on Thursday, May 31 was accepted.

Harmony Is Forecast

Raleigh, N. C., May 17 (AP) — An atmosphere of harmony is expected to prevail over today's biennial convention of North Carolina's Democratic party. The chief business is election of a 36-vote delegation to the national convention in Chicago next August. An unstructured delegation likely, although party leaders predict a resolution will be adopted endorsing Adlai Stevenson as the presidential nominee. The North Carolina party four years ago endorsed Sen. Richard Russell (D.Ga.) but switched to Stevenson when Russell's candidacy obviously was a lost cause.

Bill Has Setback

London, May 17 (AP) — A bill to do away completely with the death penalty in Britain has had its first setback. The House of Commons, which already has approved in principle the proposal to abolish hanging, voted 198-194 last night to retain it for convicted murderers who kill again while in prison. The vote came on an amendment offered by Conservative Sir Hugh Lucas-Tooth. He argued that the death penalty for such repeat slayers is a necessary protection for prison guards and convicts.

MORE PRECIOUS THAN RUBIES—Buckets and tin receptacles litter the pavement in Hongkong as natives gather around a hydrant to fill their containers with their water quota. But tempers flare, above, as the women squabble over the meager supplies. The water situation is critical in Hongkong because of the lack of rainfall, and rationing is the only solution.

Escapes From Matteawan

Beacon, N. Y., May 17 (AP)—Robert Hausman, 33-year-old inmate at the Matteawan State Hospital for the Criminal Insane, escaped today and fled into the woods north of the institution. He ran away from a group working on a lawn and bolted over a fence. Hausman was committed to the institution two years ago from Onondaga county.

begin his duties in Kingston, Mr. Steinkuller came here in 1954 to set up the personnel office in quarters on Grand street prior to completion of the new plant on the Neighborhood Road, town of Ulster. He has been employed by IBM since September, 1931, and before his appointment to Kingston was in charge of IBM's electric accounting machine customer engineering activities, with offices in New York.

Mr. Steinkuller served the second annual Red Feather campaign last fall as chairman of the Industry Division, largest income-producing division in the campaign organization. In January of this year he was elected a member of the Chest's board of directors. He is a member of the Kiwanis Club of Kingston, a director of the Cerebral Palsy Clinic and is active in other civic work.

N. Jansen Fowler, Community Chest president, presided at Wednesday night's board meeting, which was held at the Volunteers of America building at 24 Barmann avenue. The nomination of Mr. Steinkuller was presented by Adrian Kaplan, nominating chairman, and election was unanimous.

Before the meeting, the directors inspected the newly redecorated building and heard a brief talk on the work of the Volunteers by Capt. John C. Banks, commanding officer.

The program includes welfare and transient relief, family relief, prison work and other visitations, collection and distribution of usable materials. The Volunteers as a national organization maintain summer camps for children, hospitals for unwed mothers, and other installations to which local posts such as the one here can refer persons.

The operation of the store on Broadway and The Strand was explained by Capt. Banks. Here a nominal charge is made for items of clothing and household goods. This charge, he said, helps to defray the costs of operating trucks to pick up the material that is donated, and at the same time it makes items available to those who would prefer not to accept outright charity. In this manner, he said, the program is kept operating and is able in time of extreme need to provide necessary articles free of charge. At the time of floods, for instance, 11 families were completely outfitted with furnishings, as were two families that burned out, Capt. Banks said. He estimated also that 4,000 pieces of clothing were given away since the store was opened.

Thruway Golf Course Signs Thiel as Club Professional

A tip of the hat to the Ulster Kiwanis Club for its splendid promotion at the state armory.

Judged by the most exacting standards, the Hudson Valley Sportsmen and Leisure Time Show has to be rated a smash success.

The club generally was pleased with the results, the public reaction and the enthusiastic comments they received from the exhibitors and public alike. They are already setting up machinery for a bigger and better show in 1957. They will get an earlier start, more national exhibitors and more area participation. The show will need additional space at the armory.

We thought the entire promotion was high grade and we think the committee did a superlative job in handling the kiddies. The 1957 version should be something to see.

If the Giants insist on standing pat while all other National League teams are strengthening through trades, why don't they sign young Joey Hoffman to get some first base power.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

Reports circulating around the bowling alleys last September that Charlie "Juice" Manfro was losing his stuff appear to have been premature. The volatile Jones Dairy captain only finished second to the perennial leader, Johnny Ferraro, in the individual average race in the Ferraro Major. This followed a superb stint in the Hudson Valley League. Incidentally, four of the five Jones Dairy Boys of the HVBL championship squad finished 1-2-3-4 in the Major. Only 10 of the hotshots crashed the coveted 190 circle, still a mark of distinction. The Major's method of shifting alleys after every game also was responsible for keeping several worthies out of the "190" bracket, among them Chris Gallo, Larry Weishaupt, Larry Petersen and Ken Joseph. Ferraro's 701 was the lone "700", another surprise. Rheingold Beer spread-eagled the field by a 13-game margin, as sponsor John Tiano never had much to worry about.

Of Men and Mice:

Frank Koenig was awarded varsity letters in cross country and basketball at Siena's first Varsity Club alumni award dinner. Frank Connelly of Schenectady, captain-elect of the 1956-57 basketball varsity succeeded Frank as president of the Siena Varsity Club. Ralph Fedullo, '52, who appeared with Sickler's Delivery in the Kingston Basketball Tournament, was named president of the Siena Alumni Varsity Club. The Rev. Michael J. Feeney, OFM, athletic director, told the gathering, including athletic winners of the pre-war years, that the college was distributing a record 58 varsity awards, and that it hoped to surpass this mark next year. The Indians' bowling varsity won the Capital District and Middle Eastern College crowns. Coach Dan Cunha said he hoped to expand schedules in both cross country and baseball next season.

Bob Birchall must have been a jewel of consistency in the Ferraro Major. He averaged 190.39 for 93 games and yet his top triple was only 627. Buster Ferraro's tops was 683 in a 190-16 performance. Too many 10-pin taps, no doubt. Don Hempe, Dutchess county schoolboy sensation of yesterday, pitched the Poughkeepsie Elks to a 9-0 victory over the Brooklyn Windors in the New York-New Jersey League opener at Riverview Field. Hempe permitted only three hits and fanned seven. George Stirnweiss, former New York Yankee infielder and director of the Journal-American sandlot program, spoke at the opening ceremonies. . . . The Hyatt Journeymen of Clark Township, N. J., set an all-time gross handicap score record of 3521 to capture the seventh annual Dutchess Recreation Handicap classic. Mardi Bobs of the HVBL picked up a $250 check for best net score of 2948. Hudson valley power-houses like Jones Dairy, Ellenville Shanahans and Peter Hand Beer finished well off the place. Kingston failed to place a team in the first 30.

Red Buttons had better look to his laurels after that emcee stint Mammie Colao did at the City Minor League banquet Monday night. The gentleman was positively amazing.

Mrs. Joseph Cassano Wins Wiltwyck Ladies Tourney

Mrs. Joseph Cassano posted a low net of 31 to capture yesterday's best-of-six holes score in the second Ladies' Day competition at the Wiltwyck Country Club.

The tournament was a nine-hole event with players rated on their best six holes with handicap.

Mrs. Ivan Whitmore and Mrs. A. B. Shufeldt tied for second place with nets 32s.

A mystery tournament is planned next Wednesday.

Mrs. Frank Prior, general chairman of women's activities has announced the addition of Mrs. Reuben Leventhal to the women's publicity committee.

Robinson Irked Over Failure to Get Choice Seats

Los Angeles, May 17 (AP)—It was a highly irritated Sugar Ray Robinson who settled down here today to await the gong for the 15-round defense of his world middleweight championship against the man he dethroned, Carl (Bobo) Olson.

Robinson was provoked because he was unable to buy additional choice seats at ringside for the nationally televised battle tomorrow night at Wrigley Field, set to go at 7 p. m., Pacific Daylight Time. NBC will do the television and radio.

OTHERWISE all was fairly calm on the eve of this fourth fight between the now 35-year-old Sugar Ray from New York and the soon-to-be-28 Olson of San Francisco.

Neither fighter has any problem making the 160-pound weight limit.

Robinson, who knocked Olson out in two rounds in Chicago six months ago to regain the crown he relinquished in 1952, remains the general close betting favorite.

In 1950 Robinson stopped Olson in 12 rounds in Philadelphia, and in 1952 in San Francisco took a close 15-round decision.

Pirates Swap Two Players For Bill Virdon

Pittsburgh, May 17 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates today traded outfielder Bobby Del Greco and southpaw Dick Littlefield to the St. Louis Cardinals for outfielder Bill Virdon, 1955 Rookie-of-the-Year in the National League. No cash was involved in the player swap.

It was the second major trade between the Pirates and the Cardinals within a week and the third for the Cardinals in six days, with General Manager Frank Lane juggling 11 players in the transactions.

The acquisition of Virdon gives the Pirates the sorely needed left-handed batting power. Virdon has been used only in relief this season, hitting only .206 in 68 times at bat. Last year he hit .281 and belted 18 homers.

THE TRADE by the Pirates was the second in two days. Only yesterday the Pirates swapped outfielder-first baseman Preston Ward to the Cleveland Indians for catcher Hank Folles.

Littlefield, who was obtained by the Pirates from Baltimore in 1951, has no 1956 decisions. He's been used chiefly in relief. Last year he won 5 and lost 12. Del Greco, who came up from Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League for another crack in the majors, is batting .200. He's seen action in 14 games.

Eastern League Weathered Out

(By The Associated Press)

The entire Eastern League schedule was washed or frozen out last night.

The postponements left the Williamsport Grays in first place, a game and a half in front of the second-place Schenectady Blue Jays.

The Albany Senators and the Reading Indians followed in that order. Both are two games behind Williamsport, but the Senators, who have played only 13 games to Reading's 19, had a four-percentage-point edge.

That snarled the flag chase. Milwaukee, beaten 2-1 at Philadelphia, is only 22 percentage points ahead of second place St. Louis. And the Cards are just 16 points in front of the Dodgers.

Pittsburgh, belting Cincinnati 9-2 to replace the Redlegs in fourth place, is 7-9 away from home while Cincy, is 0-5. The New York Giants, who whacked Chicago 9-3, are 5-9 away from the Polo Grounds. The Cubs are 0-9 on the road.

Old Wiltwyck Layout Opens Play Saturday

Appointment of Walt Thiel as professional for the Thruway Golf Course was announced today by Herb Kessman, proprietor of the old Wiltwyck layout on Hurley avenue extension.

The course—now a regulation 9-hole—will be opened to the public Saturday for the 1956 season.

THIEL, who was professional at a Pennsylvania course the past few years, gained early prominence at The Twaalfskill Club.

Later Thiel exchanged jobs with Alex Gerlak of the Catskill Country Club. Gerlak has been Twaalfskill professional for nine years.

Kessman expressed delight with the signing of Thiel. "Walter is at the course now," said Kessman, "and he'll be ready to start teaching on Saturday. I feel very happy in being able to get a man of Thiel's calibre for the job."

KESSMAN said that a new hole had been built to bring the layout up to regulation nine holes with a par of 34 or 35. The greens have been re-seeded and top dressed and better water facilities made available to insure excellent conditions for the golfers.

Thruway is operated as a public course and will be open daily until the end of the 1956 season.

In the American League, New York's Yankees reclaimed first place from Cleveland by beating the Tribe 4-1 behind Tom Morgan's 5 2/3 innings of perfect relief pitching. The Chicago White Sox made it six in a row by beating Washington 3-1 behind Dick Donovan's pitching and two RBIs.

Mickey Vernon doubled in the winning runs as Boston defeated Detroit 4-2. Baltimore outlasted Kansas City 8-6 on Bill Gardner's two homers.

WALLY MOON hit a three-run homer in the third to give the Cards an early lead against the Dodgers, but then catcher Hal Smith and third baseman Ken Boyer erred in the fourth and Brooklyn wrapped it up. Ken Lehman won it in relief, although old-reliable Clem Labine had to come on to get the final out with two on in the ninth.

Solly Hemus, just traded by the Cards, struck a bases-loaded single in his first at bat for the Phils to break a 1-all tie and beat the Braves. Robin Roberts won his fourth—over Bob Buhl.

Home runs by Al Dark, Ray Katt and Whitey Lockman paced a 13-hit New York attack against loser Bob Rush and three Cub relievers while Don Liddle went the distance for the first time this season.

Morgan, who was 0-3, relieved Maury McDermott in the fourth for the Yankees with one out, a run home and the bases loaded. From that point he set down 17 in a row—every man he faced. Mike Garcia was the loser. Billy Martin smacked a leadoff homer in the first. Mickey Mantle hit No. 13.

Judy Lowe Rolls 623 in Friendship Loop

Sparks Federal Venetian Team To 'A' Honors

Judy Lowe, the one-time child wonder of bowling under the junior bowling program of the Kingston Woman's Bowling Association, picked a dramatic spot to roll the best triple of her career in the Friendship "A" League playoff between her Federal Venetian Blind squad and Jones Dairy on the Central Recreation planks.

Miss Lowe hammered a brilliant 623 series on games of 211, 196 and 216.

Her terrific pinning enabled the Venetians to complete the business at hand in the quickest possible fashion as they won the opener, 759-733, and nailed down the flag with a nifty 843 second game to 798 by the Dairyettes. That the Federals dropped the third and anti-climatic contest, 807-772, wasn't Judy's fault. She had her biggest solo—216—in that one.

HAVING WON the "A" title via the rolloff after tying Jones Dairy with 63 wins and 42 losses each in the regular season, the Venetians proceeded to take on McDonough's Body Works, "B" League champions in a handicap playoff for the Sponsor's Trophy.

Miss Lowe tailed off respectably to 461 in this competition but Dot Rawding, the team's anchor and league No. 1 average bowler, took the slack with a rousing 557 on lines of 177, 198 and 182. The Venetians made off with all three games, although yielding 73-pins handicap in each set.

NELL ALVERSON the Jones Dairy anchor, picked up a gaudy 574 in a "A" playoff with games of 189, 164 and 221. She was the No. 3 ranking bowler in the "A" averages, behind Mrs. Rawding and Marie Kelekian.

Much Ado About How Saxton Won Over Gil Turner

Chicago, May 17 (AP)—A couple of new twists were added to boxing in Chicago last night.

George Katz, manager of Gil Turner, blew a fuse over Dr. Irving Slott of the Illinois Athletic Commission.

Welterweight Champion Johnny Saxton declared that fans who boo him "make me work just that much harder to beat the guy I am fighting."

The nationally televised Chicago Stadium non-title bout between Turner and Saxton ended abruptly at the start of the 10th and last round.

Slott, after the ninth, jumped into the ring to examine Turner, who was bleeding from a gashed eyebrow, cut nose and from inside the mouth. Turner was not allowed to continue on Slott's orders and Saxton gained a 10th round TKO.

"TURNER WAS bleeding excessively from the throat," said Slott afterwards. "The cut at the edge of his right eye and nose lacerations also were taken into account in my decision."

Saxton, back-pedaled and picked his shots. He countered sharply and didn't have a scratch when it was all over while Turner looked as if he had been caught in a spray of red paint.

"Turner was way ahead when Slott stopped it," said the irate Katz. "In my 35 years in boxing, never have I seen such injustice as that doctor pulled * * * Turner was up and ready to continue when it was stopped with just one more round to go—and there went our chance for a title fight."

When the fight was halted, Judge H. Marovitz had Saxton ahead 87-84, Judge Frank Clark had Turner in front 88-86 and Referee Frank Sikora favored Saxton 87-85.

Onteora Central Tops Marlboro, Arlington in Track Meet

Hall Equals School Record In 440 Yards

BOSTON originally had placed sore-arm Willard Nixon on the disabled list, but Frick voided the move, saying he wasn't going to make the disabled list a "catch-all" by putting "a guy on the list just because he has a sore arm."

The Cincinnati Redlegs just got under the wire, optioning pitcher Pat Scantlebury to Havana of the International League. The move was set up when the Redlegs made a one-for-two deal with the St. Louis Cardinals, receiving shortstop Alex Grammas and outfielder Joe Frazier for utilityman Chuck Harmon.

St. Louis, which earlier optioned pitcher Gordon Jones to Omaha of the American Assn., is a man under its limit following the trade.

The Kansas City Athletics met the limit by releasing veteran Elmer Valo, who broke in with the A's in 1940. Last night the Philadelphia Phillies invited Valo for a workout.

HERE'S HOW the other clubs got squared away on the final day:

Chicago White Sox—Optioned outfielder Ron Northey to Indianapolis of the American Assn. and catcher Earl Battey and pitcher Bill Fischer to Toronto of the International League.

Cleveland Indians—Sold pitcher Jose Santiago to Kansas City; traded catcher Hank Foiles to Pittsburgh for first baseman Preston Ward; optioned catcher Earl Averill and sold infielder Bobby Young, both to Indianapolis.

Detroit Tigers—Optioned infielder Reno Bertoia and sold pitcher Bud Black and catcher Walt Streuli, all to Charleston of the American Assn.

Kansas City Athletics—In addition to the Santiago and Valo moves, optioned pitchers Arnie Portocarrero (to Birmingham of the Southern Assn.), Are Ceccarelli (to Columbus of the International) and Bill Harrington (to San Diego of the Pacific Coast League), and sold catcher Joe Astro to San Diego.

Milwaukee Braves—Optioned pitchers Bob Trowbridge and Humberto Robinson to Wichita of the American Assn.

Philadelphia Phillies—Optioned pitchers Duane Pillel and Angelo Li Petri to Miami of the International League.

Brooklyn Dodgers—Optioned pitcher Carl Spooner to St. Paul of the American Assn.

Rapp's Express, Legion Capture Softball Openers

Andy Murphy Goes 5 for 5 With Home Run

Four teams defied the caprices of the weather man last evening and managed to get the Recreation Softball League season under way.

Unloading a barrage of 20 hits, including three home runs, the American Legion nine romped over Colonial Cabinets, 15 to 9.

Rapp's Express had only one homer but plenty of extra base power to shell the S&C Lunch, 14 to 5.

The distinction of hitting the first homers of the season went to Tom Rizzi, Andy Murphy of the Legion; Joe Ausanio of Colonial Cabinets and George Smith of Rapp's Express.

MURPHY launched the campaign with a brilliant "5 for 5" performance for the Legion, including a homer, double and three singles. Rizzi belted three singles besides his round tripper. Jim Gilpatrick and Jack Gilligan stroked three hits apiece, as Rizzi scattered nine hits and fanned five.

The Secretro brothers—Lou and Harry—absorbed the 20-hit assault. Ausanio was the big hitter for Colonial with a single, double and homer.

Rapp's Express led 9-0 over S&C Lunch at the end of two innings as Joe Mazzucca's expense and it was easy after that.

John Lawson and John Armstrong rapped triples for the Expressmen. Mort Gazlay and George Smith each had two hits. Gazlay went the distance, scattering 11 hits to win the decision.

Hamilton Forfeits Pony Loop Franchise
Hamilton, Ontario, May 16 (AP)—Hamilton forfeited its baseball franchise in the Pony League today and it was reported Elmira, N. Y., probably would be the new home of the team.

Owners of the club had been given until last midnight to post $1,600 to insure players' salaries for the next two weeks. The bond wasn't raised.

The league president, Vince McNamara, said a new site for the team probably will be fixed at a meeting in Buffalo, N. Y., Saturday. A group in Elmira, N. Y., is considering the project, McNamara added.

McNamara said he had been talking to officials of the Cincinnati Reds in hopes of establishing a working agreement between the National League team and the Red Wings, an independently-operated team.

The shoots are open to novice and expert shooters alike and are designed to improve general marksmanship. Howard Mosher, of New Paltz, chairman of the event predicts some perfect scores for Sunday's meet.

Shooting will start at noon with Rosendale, Glasco, New Paltz and Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club competing.

85 New Polio Cases

Washington, May 17 (AP)—Only 85 new cases of polio were reported last week, compared with 205 in the corresponding week last year. A Public Health Service spokesman, disclosing this today, said "the present reports look very favorable but it is still too early to say what impends for the remainder of the year." The 85 cases during the week ended May 12 compared with 101 in the similar week of 1952, which became the record year for polio. In each of the two preceding weeks this year the number of cases had been identical with those in the corresponding 1952 weeks.

SHIPSHAPE FOR CANCER—Crewmen of the world's most powerful warship join the fight against cancer. Four hundred sailors on the newly christened aircraft carrier Saratoga spell out the words "Fight Cancer" in letters 35 feet high, while 900 shipmates form the American Cancer Society's sword of hope.

ID' Card System

of the office of issue, the Ulster County Hotel and Restaurant Liquor Dealers' Association, Inc., has arranged with the Pefington Studio at 72 Main street, Kingston; Tom Reynolds in the Community Theatre, Kingston, and at 103 Partition street, Saugerties; Zweiff Camera Shop at 89 North Main street, Ellenville, to supply official photos free to applicants. The Association will meet this charge as well as the cost of the identification cards. A birth certificate must be produced at the time applicant seeks issuance of a card.

In addition to the card issued to the applicant, a record of the identification card will be retained at the office where issued, together with a photo of the applicant attached to the file card. All cards will bear a serial number.

Robert Teetsel, chairman of the Association committee which has been cooperating with the district attorney's office, said the cards would also be valuable to establish identity of the holder for many purposes since it would contain a photo impressed with the seal of the office where issued.

After notice has been sent to all licensees it is planned by Association members to demand these identification cards from customers whose age may be in question after May 21, 1956. The Association asks that all tavern keepers honor the cards whether they be members of the County Association or not.

Members of the Association committee who have been cooperating with the district attorney's office are Robert Teetsel of The Barn, Albert Barone of Jo-Al Restaurant on John street and Michael Greco of Tony's Pizzeria on Broadway. George Broom of Broom's Hotel, Saugerties, is president of the County Association.

Teetsel said speakers would appear at various high schools, P-TA meetings or other places if requested to explain the system. A speaker from the Hotel and Restaurant Dealers' Association or the district attorney's office would be glad to appear before any group, he said, when requested.

District Attorney St. John said placards would be placed in all hotels, restaurants and taverns advising the public of the availability of identification cards.

kitchen-bathroom flat, including $5,009.08 in rolled coins stored in three beer cartons.

Authorities could not say immediately if the money was part of the Brink's loot taken Jan. 17, 1950.

There was indication, Police said, that the men had been "holed up" in the flat for about two months while a nation-wide search was underway for them. The hideout is less than 10 miles from the Brink's waterfront headquarters where masked gunmen robbed six employees of the biggest cash loot in United States criminal history.

Early today, district attorney investigators picked up a man they identified as Thomas Ballou, 27, of Quincy, on suspicion that he served as courier bringing Richardson and Faherty their food and liquor rations.

He was arrested after a telephone "wanted" alarm was sent out over a wide area of New England by police.

Faherty and Richardson were taken from the hideout to the federal court building where they were arraigned on federal fugitive charges. They were immediately released to Suffolk county authorities prosecuting the Brink's case.

After questioning by the district attorney's staff the pair was put in widely separated cells in the Charles Street Jail. The FBI refused to divulge any details of the circumstances leading to the raid. However, local authorities indicated that the agents have been waiting for a suspected courier to lead them, unwittingly, to the hideout.

The others in custody on the Brink's robbery charges are:

Joseph "Specs" O'Keefe, 48, who admitted the robbery and involved the others; Stanley A. Gusciora, 36; Henry Baker, 49; Adolph "Jazz" Maffie, 44; Joseph F. McGinnis, 52; Vincent Costa, 41; Michael V. Geagan, 47, and Anthony Pino, 48, all of greater Boston.

The 11th man indicted for the robbery, Joseph S. Banfield, 45, died about a year ago.

Nussbaum Completes
Radiological Course

Morris Nussbaum, 307 Clinton avenue, chief, County-City Civil Defense Radiological Defense, with headquarters at Kingston last week completed the instructor's course in radiological defense operations at the Federal Civil Defense Administration's newly established Radiological Defense School at Battle Creek, Mich.

CANDIDATES FROM eight states and Pakistan took the course. It qualifies graduates to assist in the basic training of radiological monitoring teams to be recruited in various parts of the country.

This training program is part of FCDA's continuing effort to devise protective measures against the threat of radioactive fallout from an atomic attack on the United States.

Almost Half

able for injections throughout the summer months.

Physicians have been advised to reserve vaccine for "first shots" to as many eligible individuals as possible. When this demand has been filled, vaccine will be made available for "second shots." Experience in 1955 clearly showed that one injection of vaccine, while less effective than two, gave a marked protection against paralytic polio.

ASSISTING the commissioner in problems of vaccine supply and demand is a polio vaccine advisory committee, appointed by Dr. John Olivet, president of the Ulster County Medical Society.

Members of the committee are Dr. Herbert Johnson, Dr. Elbert MacFadden, Dr. George Einteiz and Dr. John Roberts.

THE COMMITTEE explains that the physician will charge his usual fee for giving the injections but the vaccine furnished through the Ulster County Health Department will be free. Forty per cent of available vaccine, however, is now being shipped to local drug stores for direct purchase by physicians. When such vaccine is used for injections the purchase cost will be charged to the patient.

While vaccine is still in short supply, parents are urged to be patient. It is hoped that the improving rate of vaccine production will soon result in an adequate supply for all who desire it.

Northeast Shivers Far West Swelters

(By The Associated Press)

The northeast shivered and the far west sweltered today in violent weather contrasts.

Snow flurries fell in the North Atlantic coast states and temperatures dropped below freezing in sections of New England. The freezing weather extended as far south as West Virginia.

The cool air spread over the lower Great Lakes region and the chilly breezes extended along the Atlantic coast southward to Georgia.

Temperatures were as much as 23 degrees lower than yesterday morning. The 53 reading at Atlanta compared to 68 degrees 24 hours earlier. Pittsburgh was down 17 degrees to 34 and Burlington, Vt. cooled 23 degrees to 34.

The early morning readings ranged from 12 at Mount Washington, N. H., to 86 at Thermal, Calif. The hot spell in the far west sent temperatures into the 90s and above 100 in the southwest desert region yesterday. Record marks for May 16 included 99 at Los Angeles, 93 at Santa Maria and 91 at San Francisco. The day's top mark was 109 at Yuma, Ariz.

Attorney Gold At Dinner of Gridiron Club

The 76th annual dinner of the famous Gridiron Club of Washington, D. C., last Saturday night was in the finest tradition of that unique organization, according to Attorney Harry Gold of Kingston who was so fortunate as to be there.

The annual function of the club, which is composed of Washington newspapermen, is attended by the President of the United States, the vice-president, cabinet members of the U. S. Supreme Court, various ambassadors to this country and about 500 guests.

Mr. Gold received an invitation from a friend who is a member of the club.

THE CLUB sings songs adapted for the occasion and puts on a number of skits in which both parties and various VIP's come in for some good-natured ribbing at the hands of the press corps.

The U. S. Marine Corps Band played for the event which was held at the Hotel Statler.

Mr. Gold told The Freeman today that the affair had been "impressive." He was introduced to a number of senators and top government officials.

AMONG THOSE seated at Mr. Gold's table were Sherman Adams, assistant to the president, Governor Herman Talmadge of Georgia and Lawrence Spivak, producer of Meet the Press.

He also saw James A. Farley who asked to be remembered to his many Kingston friends.

Mr. Gold said the president and others took the ribbing good-naturedly and apparently enjoyed the evening tremendously.

The Democratic viewpoint was presented in one of the skits by Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas with Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts replying for the Republicans.

President Eisenhower also spoke briefly and informally.

On Sunday afternoon there was a reception for Roscoe Drummond, newly elected president of the Gridiron Club.
